$2,000,000 BONDS TO GIVE ATLANTA BETTER STREETS

MAY ASK LEGISLATURE FOR CHARTER AMENDMENT

If Bond Election Is Held, Ordinance Will Specify Where Every Dollar of the Money Is to Be Expended--Improvements Necessary, Says Chairman Haverty.

A two-million-dollar bond issue to improve the streets of Atlanta.

That is what a special committee yesterday afternoon decided to recommend to the city council.

As the bond election, if approved by council, will occur early next year, it is necessary to secure a city charter amendment during the present session of the state legislature. City Attorney Mayson will be seen at once and requested to draw up the necessary resolutions to be presented to council. It is probable that there will be a called session of council, as the next regular session does not take place until Monday week, and that may be too late to secure action by the legislature.

Streets to Be Specified.

It is the plan of the committee, if the bond election is approved, to have an ordinance which will be submitted at the election that will specify every street on which the bond money will be expended.

With the two million dollars, state members of the committee, the great and necessary work of improving such thoroughfares as West Peachtree, spring street, Ivy street, Forrest avenue, Georgia avenue, Fair street, West Mitchell street, and otaltr such contemplated improvements, can be carried out. The money would be further used to put in good condition streets in every section of the city that now need either widening, regrading or repaving. With the money, states the committ, Atlanta would have good streets in every section, and there would be no longer complaint of narrow, steep graded streets filled with mud holes.

As it will be stated where every dollar of th money is to go to, it is believed by the committee that the bond issue could be easily carried.

Charter Amendment Can Be Secured.

City Attorney Mayson stated to a reporter of The Constitution that the advertisements for charter amendments which have already been made are in such form as to cover an election of bonds for street improvements. As pointed out by members of the committee, the securing of a charter amendment would not necessarily mean a bond election, but would merely empower the city to hold such an election if deemed advisable. The amount of bonds to be voted for would not necessarily be to the amount of $2,000,000, as the charter amendment would state that the amount should not be for more than $2,000,000. The issue could be for any amount under that sum. However, the committee is firmly of the opinion that the issue should be for $2,000,000.

It is understood that Mayor Winn will approve of the action of the committee, a member of the committee stating that Mayor Winn had said he was in favor of an issue of bonds for street improvements.

AIDES GATHER AT OYSTER BAY

Much Mystery to Hurried Conference Last Night.

Colonel Roosevelt Will Not Discuss Matter, But During the Day Tells of Plans for Campaign Against the Two Old Parties.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 5.—Several of Colonel Roosevelt's aides gathered at Sagamore Hill tonight for a conference about which there was some mystery. The colonel was in the midst of a tennis game when an automobile whirled up from New York. Medill McCormick, of Chicago; Senator Dixon, of Montana, and George W. Perkins and George L. Stoddard, of New York, climbed out. The tennis game ended abruptly, and Colonel Roosevelt made his way to the house.

When asked in regard to the conference, the colonel was unusually reticent.

"I'd rather not say anything about it," he said.

The former president said his platform would be ready in a week or so. He has received letters, he continued, from several men who were prominent in his campaign for the republican presidential nomination, but were reported to have left him since the Chicago convention. They told him they were with him despite reports to the contrary. He thought others, who have "flopped" had acted prematurely, and before long some of them would want to come back again.

Has Not Been Forsaken.

Colonel Roosevelt said some confusion has been caused by misinterpretation in statements of supporters of his that they saw no need of a new party. That did not mean, he asserted, that they had forsaken him.

"In Kansas, for instance," he said, "they take the stand that the Roosevelt supporters are the republican organization, and there is no reason for abandoning it. They will simply name Roosevelt electors on the regular republican ticket."

"Do you mean that the republican organizations of some states will cooperate with the new party?"

"I don't know," Colonel Roosevelt replied. "Each state will settle that for itself."

Plans for Campaign.

"The platforms of both the republican and the democratic parties call for rigid enforcement of the anti-trust law. They are wrong." So declared Theodore Roosevelt today.

The former president said that in his campaign he would attack both parties upon this score. He intends to take the position which he outlined in a speech at Osawatomie, Kan., two years ago, when he said that the great business enterprises of the country had come to stay and should be controlled by means of close supervision by the national government. To attempt to abolish them he said today was futile.

"The Sherman anti-trust law was on the statute books for years," said Mr. Roosevelt, "and it was never enforced until I became president. I said in my messages and speeches that the law was wrong, but that as long as it was a law I would enforce it."

It was one of the laws, continued the colonel, which was never meant to be enforced rigidly. If strictly enforced it would do much damage to unoffending persons, such as farmers who have formed co-operative associations. It was his opinion that only by strong administrative control, exercised, through tht national government, could the problem be handled rightly.

As for the tariff, Colonel Roosevelt said the democratic party had gone on record in favor of free entry of the necessities of life. "Of course, the first person that such a policy could harm would be the farmer," he continued. Free trade, he said, would be so disastrous that the country would soon come back to the people for protection.

Colonel Roosevelt also denied a report that he had offered the nomination for the viet presidency to Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver.

"If the convention nominates me for

ROOSEVELT PARTY IS DESERTED BY SENATOR CUMMINS

Capers, Worker for Colonel at Chicago, Will Also Support President Taft.

STEAM ROLLER ENGINEER TELLS HOW IT WORKED

The Iowa Senator Says That Progressiveness May Be Secured Through the G. O. P. Quicker Than by a New Party—Failure of Anti-Taft Forces at Chicago Reviewed.

Washington, July 5.—Senator Cummins, of Iowa, progressive republican candidate for the presidential nomination at the Chicago convention, today formally declared against the new party movement led by Theodore Roosevelt and announced his allegiance to the old party.

In so doing Mr. Cummins said bosses could not be escaped by organization of new parties and that to these republicans, who, after intelligent inquiry, conclude that President Taft's renomination was the result of fraudulent votes, "the nominee of the convention is not the nominee of the republican party." He pointed out, however, that disappointment or individual dishonesty cannot be a foundation of a new party.

John C. Capers, of this city, South Carolina member of the republican national committee who supported Colonel Roosevelt, also formally announced his intention to support President Taft's candidacy. Mr. Capers, in a statement, said that the work of the majority of the national committee "was not one whit more severe than the steam-roller methods of four years ago."

"Engineer of Machine."

"At that time," he said, "in behalf of Candidate Taft and under the direction of President Roosevelt, I was one of the engineers of the machine and helped flatten out the minority of the committee who were in the same condition when we got through with them as were the fifteen men of the committee at Chicago this time." Mr. Capers was one of the fifteen.

"There will always be a steam-roller in the national committees of both parties," he said, "until the just and fair thing is done, providing for the new national committee to make up the temporary roll and assume office before the convention nominates a candidate for president."

Senator Cummins' Statement.

Senator Cummins' statement was his first public utterance since the Chicago convention renominated President Taft. Mr. Cummins pointed out that throughout his public life he had been fighting to make the republican party the progressive party.

"I believe," he said, "that we can solve the problems before us more quickly and more successfully through the republican party than through any other political organization.

"It was but a short while ago that the progressive movement in the republican party took on definite form, and yet at this time three-fourths of the republican states are in the hands of progressive republican organizations and the membership of the party is overwhelmingly with us. We met defeat at Chicago simply because we had not concentrated our energies upon the abolition of a false and unjust basis of representation; but the basis can and will be overthrown and another system for the nomination of presidential candidates will be substituted before another presidential nomination is made.

Tells of Failure.

"The only thing that has happened since the progressive republicans made their campaign for the nomination of a candidate for president in the Chicago convention is our failure to control the convention, due, as many believe, to unfair or dishonest practices by our opponents. I deeply regret the failure, and I agree that dishonest practices without regard to consequences ought to be rebuked and punished, but I cannot believe that the disappointment, however profound, or the dishonesty of individuals, however henious, can constitute a foundation upon which to rear a new party.

"If we are vigilant those things can never occur again in the republican party and if we are not vigilant they can occur in any party old or new. We cannot rid ourselves of bosses by organizing another party. It is no more difficult to deprive the old bosses of power than to prevent the appearance of new ones.

"For these reasons and others which may be easily deduced from those I have given, I shall not join the new party, but shall continue to use all the strength I have to influence and direct the course of the republican party toward its true mission. I shall not hesitate to oppose measures brought forward by its leaders when I think they are wrong nor to differ from the president when he proposes legislation which I believe to be unsound or unwise.

"A fraudulent conspiracy vitiates everything it touches and therefore as to the republican who after intelligent inquiry reaches the conclusion that the outcome of the Chicago convention was the result of deliberate fraud, the nominee of the convention is not the nominee of the republican party. Such a conclusion ought not to be reached without careful investigation, but if it is so reached, then the republican voter holds in his own hands the opportunity to rebuke and punish."

Seagirt, N. J., July 5.—Should Woodrow Wilson become the next president of the United States, the white house would have four feminine inmates, something that the handsome old building never saw before. For the first time in history there will be three young women in the white house family. Mrs. Wilson herself looks more like an elder sister than the mother of such girls. She is a brilliant conversationalist and takes an active interests in all subjects of current interest. Miss Margaret Woodrow Wilson, the eldest daughter, is 26 years old, Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson is a year younger, while Miss Eleanor Wilson—known as Nell to all her friends—is 22.

NOTIFICATION OF TAFT WILL OCCUR ABOUT AUGUST 1

News of Nomination Will Be Broken to Him at the White House.

Beverly, Mass., July 5.—President Taft will receive the formal notification that he is the nominee of the republican party for president at the white house about August 1.

The president told his visitors at Paramatta today that he had talked with Senator Root, of New York, and that they had decided the notification should take place in Washington. The president believes Washington is the most convenient place for the committee to wait upon him and he desires to entertain the members in the white house.

It is probable that Mrs. Taft and the Taft children will leave their summer home here for a few days to attend the notification ceremonies.

Will Meet Next Week.

The president has planned a reception for early next week to the subcommittee of the republican national committee, which is to meet him to go over the situation and hear his suggestions for a chairman and the national committee.

Several hundred invitations have been sent out also to prominent republicans of the country and it is expected there will be a disposition to get together and plan the fall campaign. The president has not changed his mind as to a chairman of the national committee and it is said that his secretary, C. D. Hilles, probably will be selected.

Andrew Incident Closed.

President Taft explained to callers today that as far as he is concerned the row between Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh and A. Platt Andrew, the assistant secretary who resigned, is a closed incident. He has no intention of discussing in detail at cabinet meetings next week charges made by Mr. Andrew.

The president was said today to have taken the position that Mr. Andrew clearly disobeyed orders by going to Chicago to attend the republican convention.

Mr. Andrew did not deny this act of disobedience the president was told. Friends of Mr. Taft know he frequently has referred to Mr. MacVeagh's record as secretary as proof that he is one of the most efficient members of his cabinet. A congressional investigation of the treasury department, friends of the president say, will prove Mr. MacVeagh has been a remarkably good department head.

President Taft expects only one distinguished caller during his stay here, Governor Pothier, of Rhode Island, who is coming for luncheon tomorrow. The president intends to play golf and rest as much as possible. Former Republican National Committeeman Blodgett, of Michigan, and John Hays Hammond were the only callers today. The president played 18 holes over the Myopia course this morning and later took a long motor ride.

SPEAKER CLARK SLIGHTLY PEEVED

Wilson Supporter Talking to Underwood Causes Friction.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 5.—(Special.)—When Speaker Champ Clark came into the house of representatives at the opening of today's session he brought his fighting spirit with him. The ordinarily placid brow of the Pike county statesman was seamed and lined. Contrary to custom, he wore a pair of heavy steel rimmed "specs," which added to testiness of his expression.

"Bang" went the gavel. "The chaplain will lead in prayer," snapped he, in a voice that brought the chaplain upstanding with a jerk.

After the prayer the speaker looked over the sparsely filled seats. The house was reasonably quiet, but there was the usual early morning buzz of conversation. The distraction is rarely noticed by Mr. Clark in ordinary sessions. The buzz continued. "Whang" again came the heavy black walnut mallet.

"The house will be in order," then glancing over on the democratic side and noticing that the chief offender in the conversational buzz was Representative Albert S. Burleson, of Texas, an ardent Wilson man; that the auditor of the Texan was Representative Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, beside whose chair Burleson was standing, he added:

"The sergeant-at-arms will see that the aisles are clear. The house will be in order."

Mr. Burleson looked up, smiled, and then took his seat.

Both Speaker Clark and Representative Underwood received telegrams of good will and grateful appreciation from Governor Wilson this morning. The message follows:

"Hon. Champ Clark, Speaker House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.: Your message of congratulation has given me great pleasure and your generous offer to do all you can to aid in my election is characteristic of your readiness to undertake every task the party imposes upon you. Pray accept my warmest assurances of personal regard and of pleasure in the anticipation of working with you.

"WOODROW WILSON."

To Leader Underwood the newly chosen party leader wired:

"Hon. Oscar W. Underwood, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.: Your message of congratulation has given me deep pleasure. It cheers me as much as it strengthens me to have the support of a man whose character and leadership in congress all the country admires. Please accept my assurances of warm personal regard.

"WOODROW WILSON."

GOVERNOR WILSON BUSY ANSWERING 10,000 LETTERS

Democratic Nominee Flooded With Invitations to Speak. Has Busy Day.

Seagirt, N. J., July 5.—Governor Wilson spent a comparatively quiet but busy day. During the morning he had a long conference with William McAdoo, of New York, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the treasurership of the democratic national committee. In the afternoon he received a number of visitors and at dinner tonight United States Senator O'Gorman, of New York, was his guest. Neither Senator O'Gorman nor Mr. McAdoo would discuss their conference with the governor except that they concerned the coming campaign.

Governor Wilson began today to answer personally if possible each of 10,000 letters and telegrams he has received since his nomination. He dictated a hundred letters today, but with a corps of extra stenographers who have been summoned the governor hoped to make a great impression on his voluminous mail before his departure for Chicago to attend the meeting of the national committee there on July 15.

If time permits the governor will stop off in Indianapolis on his way to Chicago, probably next Sunday, to visit his running mate, Governor Marshall. The latter amused Governor Wilson not a little today with a telegram reading:

Message From Marshall.

"May Seagirt, N. J., go down in history with eSagirt Salamis. Fully one-tenth of my messages promise republican support to the ticket."

Salamis is a Seagirt island in the gulf of Aegina near which the Greeks under Themistocles gained a memorable naval victory over the Persions in 480 B. C., and of which Solon and Euripides were natives.

Many Speeches Wanted.

The governor's mail was burdened today with requests for speaking engagements in many states. In addition, Thomas G. Burke, of Oregon, a brother of Governor Burke of North Dakota, called to remind the governor of the desire of people in his section to hear the nominee. Maurice Connally, of Dubuque, an Iowa delegate who is a candidate for congress, asked Governor Wilson to speak in Iowa, and, if possible, in his district.

J. H. Bankhead, Jr., son of the Alabama senator, called during the day. E. C. Grossup, state chairman, also had a long talk with the nominee.

A Burglar Scare.

Governor Wilson had a burglar scare last night. After the last door had been bolted, the lights turned off and the family had gone to sleep, Walter Measday, the governor's personal secretary; Colonel Archibald Alexander, his alde; Robert S. Hudspeth, New Jersey national committeeman, and David S. Crater, secretary of state of New Jersey, remembered that they had left their traveling bags in the governor's office. They tried all the doors and attempted to awaken the butler, but could not. They pryed

SCORE ARE DEAD AND THIRTY HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

FIRST FATAL ACCIDENT ON LIGONIER R. R. IN 40 YEARS

Passengers Hurled Into Air Only to Fall Under Wheels, Only One Passenger Out of Fifty Escapes Without Injury — Train Crew Jump. But Do Not Escape Injury.

Latrobe, Pa., July 5.—Twenty-one persons were killed and thirty injured, a number fatally, in a wreck this afternoon on the Ligonier Valley railroad at Wilpen.

An overloaded passenger coach, pushed by an engine, was struck by a double-header freight train of coal cars, crushing the coach like paper and spreading death and injury to all but one aboard the train.

That any escaped death seems miraculous, as bodies of dead and injured were hurled through the air or crushed in the debris when the locomotives split the coach almost in twain.

This is said to be the first fatal accident on the Ligonier road in forty years.

The dead:

MARY RHODDY, of Ligonier.

FRANK E. BEATTY, engineer, head crushed.

MRS. HARRY DILLON AND BABY, of Wilpen, crushed to death.

GEORGE BYERS, of Ligonier, fireman, crushed and scalded.

LOUISE RHODDY, aged 8, of McCanca, crushed.

ELIZABETH RHODDY, aged 13, a sister.

MRS. M. ESSE, of Wilpen.

THOMAS HURR, of Latrobe, head crushed.

GEORGE TOSH, of Wilpen, body crushed.

MIKE HUDOCK, of Wilpen, side crushed.

FRANK OVERTON, of Wilpen, mutilated.

MRS. JOHN OVERTON, mother of Frank, died on train bound for Pittsburg.

UNIDENTIFIED BOY, aged 12.

The passenger train had started from Ligonier. It consisted of an engine and coach, the engine pushing the coach. The freight train was made up of coal cars, and was being pulled by two heavy locomotives.

Coach Laid Open.

The impact was terrific. The passenger coach was practically laid open, and the passengers either crushed or thrown like shot through the air. It was the first accident, it is said, in the history of the Ligonier road for the past forty years.

A majority of the injured, fifty in all, were residents along the Wilpen

NEW SCHEME TO REDUCE NAVIES

Panama Canal Figures in Plan of Alabama Senator.

Washington, July 5.—Denial of the use of the Panama canal to all nations which do not agree to build only one battleship a year will be proposed by Senator Johnston, of Alabama, when the canal bill comes before the senate for its consideration.

While the naval appropriation bill was under consideration today Mr. Johnston presented a substitute amendment to provide for one new Dreadnaught instead of two, as proposed by the senate naval affairs committee. He said the United States should end the wasteful battleship competition with European nations by entering into treaties with them to cease building such vessels.

Senators Lodge, Perkins, Poindexter and Heyburn advocated the two vessels.

The amendment for one battleship was voted down 12 to 43, leaving the committee provision for two ships in the bill.

The votes for one ship were cast by Senators Bacon, Fletcher, Johnston, Kern, Pomerene, Smith (Arizona), Tillman and Williams, democrats, and Bristow, Burton, Clapp and Gronna, republicans.

SENATE PASSES BIG NAVAL BILL

House Will Take Up the Amendments Made.

Washington, July 5.—The naval appropriation bill, carrying $133,609,674 and the two battleship provision, was passed by the senate today. It now goes to conference with the house to thresh out the naval increase program and other senate amendments.

An amendment was adopted to make the recently enacted 8-hour law applicable to work on new ships which Senators Gallinger and Heybourn contended would increase the government expense by $4,000,000 or $5,000,000.

A committee amendment to provide for creation of a national council for defense was defeated on a point of order made by Senator Overman, of North Carolina, who did not withdraw his point, notwithstanding a whispered suggestion that the plan was indorsed by the new democratic platform. Senator Bacon, of Georgia, in the chair, sustained the point of order. The senate rejected the amendment that proposed reviving the grades of admiral and vice admiral.

branch. They were brought to a hospital here or sent to hospitals at Pittsburg, when it was found they were in a critical condition. Among them were Dr. J. B. Johnson, of Ligonier, hurt internally; will probably die. Dr. C. A. Hamill, of Ligonier, crushed; may die. Miss Esther M. Mathews, a nurse employed at the home of George Senft, of Ligonier, president of the Ligonier Valley railroad. Walter Serina, of McKeesport, Pa., clerk in a bank at that place, in a precarious condition.

The injuries of the others were all serious, broken limbs, arms and contusions.

Some Fell Under Train.

All the occupants were hurled to the roadbed. Some fell under the wheels of the onrushing engines. The first engine of the freight train stopped soon after tearing through the passenger train, turned half way around and rolled over on its side.

Engineer McConnaughey was scalded to death, while his fireman, George Byers, jumped, only to fall on the track and meet death under the wheels. Engineer Smith P. Beatty, of the second engine, jumped and sustained a broken leg. His fireman, John Ankney, fell beneath a car. His legs were severed and he died en route to a hospital. Engineer Dunlap, of the passenger train, and his fireman remained at their posts and escaped with slight injuries.

A pathetic feature of the wreck was the injury to Miss Esther M. Matthews, a nurse, and the death of two and the injury of four children she was taking to the woods near Wilpen for an afternoon's outing.

Farmers Rushed to Scene.

Farmers near the scene of the accident and of the workmen employed at a race track in the vicinity were at the wreck within a few minutes. Messengers were started at once to Ligonier, while others, assisted by Engineer Dunlap and his fireman, were busy getting the dead and injured clear of the wreckage. An hour and a half after the accident physicians, nurses and railroad officials had reached the scene. From that time on the work of rescue and tending to the suffering was effective.

The Pennsylvania railroad, of which the Ligonier road is a branch, sent a special train from Pittsburg to Latrobe to take some of the injured from the overtaxed hospital here to Pittsburg. The action was timely, as the facilities here were exhausted.

The first rescue train reached here from the accident at 8 o'clock tonight. Practically the entire town met it. Every conveyance was ready to haul the injured to a hospital.

To obtain a connected story from any of the victims was next to impossible at a late hour. But one person on the train escaped without injury. He was a railroad employee and was too busy to talk.

The Ligonier road is only 10 miles in length and is an outlet for the mines of the Wilpen Coal Company. It is owned by Pittsburg men.

Cause of Wreck Unknown.

The wrecked train was the only one in operation on the line, and it made two trips a day. What caused the accident has not been ascertained.

Almost every home in the little town of Ligonier was affected by the wreck. George Hubley, who was killed, was only 18 years old. He was on his way to accept a position as civil engineer with the Pennsylvania State Highway Association. He was recently graduated from an engineering school.

When the rescue train reached here T. C. Ankney, the oldest rural mail carrier in Westmoreland county, father of John Ankney, fireman, who died, was at the station.

"Where's my boy?" he cried. When told that his son had died, the aged man collapsed and was taken to his home in a serious condition.

WRECK VICTIMS UNIDENTIFIED

Morgue and Hospitals Filled With Those Who Were in Corning Accident.

Corning, N. Y., July 5.—Of the forty-one passengers killed in the rear-end collision on the Lackawanna, 2 miles east of this city early yesterday, thirteen remained unidentified tonight. In several instances there are no clues upon which identification may be attempted, and several bodies are so badly mutilated that identity seems but a remote possibility. The unidentified dead comprise six women, five men, an 8-year-old girl and a 10-year-old boy.

Coroner H. B. Smith settled a dispute today between two claimants of the body of a 5-year-old girl. The body had been identified by William R. Laird, of Buffalo, as that of his daughter, Mabel, and had been turned over to him. Today David Cochrane, of New York, a brother of Mrs. William Armstrong, who, with her husband, was killed, also claimed the body as that of his niece who accompanied her parents on the trip and is missing. Mystery surrounds the fate of the little Armstrong girl, as there is no other child of the age in any of the morgues or hospitals. Dr. Smith gave Mr. Laird possession of the body, which is to be sent to New York, and advised Cochrane to go to that city for more positive identification, if it could be obtained.

It developed tonight that Mrs. Charles Brandes, of New York city, who has been mentioned hitherto as among the dead, was not on the train. This became known when Henry Hente, a cousin of Brandes, identified the latter, but said that Brandes' wife and four children were at home in New York.

A few minutes later the body of the young bride supposed to have been Mrs. Brandes, was identified as that of Mrs. C. A. Masserve. As Ada Benson, of Poquannock, Pa., she was married on Wednesday at Pompton, N. J., to C. A. Masserve, a clerk in the offices of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway. They were on their wedding trip. A similarity of initials appearing on a wedding ring led to her identification as Mrs. Brandes.

A blue-eyed, brown-haired boy, 12 years old, is among the unidentified injured at the Corning hospital, and his case has given much concern to the physicians. No clue to his identity is to be had.

The fact came to light today that the express car next to the engine of train No. 11, which was badly damaged in the wreck, contained $500,000 in currency and $400,000 in "valuable shipments." The front end of the car was demolished, and the treasure exposed, although none but the express messengers knew of its existence. A special crew of seven men, heavily armed, was dispatched from Elmira to guard the hoard, which was sent back to Elmira and shipped west late today.

Engineer William Schroeder, of the express train, is reported tonight to be in a serious mental condition, and under the constant care of physicians.

Bodies of victims identified tonight besides the body of Mrs. Masserve were those of Mrs. Marie E. Duffy, of Brooklyn; Olive L. Duffy, her daughter, and Edmond P. Perrin, Yonkers, N. Y.

LIVES OF PASSENGERS REST WITH ENGINEER

New York, July 5.—"No matter how perfect the mechanical department of a railroad, and how strict the rules and regulations given the men, it is impossible to get away from the fact that we have always to depend on the brain of one man. It is the engineer in the cab."

Such was the statement today of George A. Cullen, general traffic manager of the Lackawanna, after hours of effort in trying to place the blame for yesterday's disaster near Corning.

"Railroad men have studied this problem for years, and always, we come to the same question: Is there any other means than human agency that will protect perfectly the lives of those entrusted to our care? No, there has got to be the human mind—the man. The mechanical contrivances, in themselves, are perfect, but without the co-operation of the man they are useless.

"In every accident it is some human mechanism that is at fault; some brain forgot or neglected to work at the proper time. The steel and wire mechanism is never at fault. That was the case in this terrible catastrophe. Our signals worked perfectly, all the men on the road performed their prescribed duty except one, and he says, in explantaion that he didn't see the signals. He blamed the fog. He was the engineer of the express which telescoped the Buffalo limited."

KILLS FOUR AND THEN SLAYS SELF

Lover Forbidden to See His Sweetheart, Wipes Out Entire Family.

Dawson, Y. T., July 5.—Eugenio Vaglio, aged 45, today killed his brother, John Vaglio, proprietor of the Central hotel; his brother's wife and their two children, Rosa, aged 16, and Christina, aged 9, and then committed suicide.

Eugenio Vaglio was infatuated with his niece, Rosa, and had been forbidden by her parents to enter the house. The murderer went to the hotel with two pistols and a dagger.

He found Mrs. Vaglio in the kitchen, followed her to her bedroom and shot her. The husband was killed in bed. Christina rushed to the door and was shot down, and Rosa was slain in bed. The murderer then cut his throat and blew out his brains. The five persons were found dead in one room.

MARSHALL'S LAWS ARE HELD ILLEGAL

New Indiana Constitution Criticized by State Supreme Court.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—The new Indiana constitution as drafted by Governor Thomas R. Marshall and adopted at the last session of the legislature was declared unconstitutional late today by the Indiana supreme court. The court held that the right to change the constitution lies with the people, and that the amendments should have been submitted to a constitutional convention instead of the legislature.

The manner in which the amendments were adopted brought out adverse sentiment at the time, and shortly afterwards John H. Dye, a taxpayer, entered suit in a county court. The opinion of the lower court, that the right to alter and reform the government was at all times a people's right and indivestable, was upheld by the supreme court.

Governor Marshall refused to criticise the action of the court, saying: "To be sure, I have my opinions, but it is not proper for me to discuss them."

FIGHT IN PANAMA RESULTS FATALLY

Soldiers and Police in Conflict Which Uncle Sam Will Investigate.

Washington, July 5.—Major Smedley D. Butler, commanding the marines at Camp Elliott, Panama City, has reported that eight soldiers of the Tenth infantry, two marines and one civilian were seriously wounded yesterday in a fight with Panama police. He reports two of the infantrymen will die.

Major General Wood, chief of staff, has sent a telegram to the commander of the Tenth infantry requesting a full report on the incident immediately.

Later advices to the state department stated that the Americans were wounded in an attack by the Panama police, probably caused by the latter's overzealousness, and that, while accounts of the affray are confused, there is no evidence indicating that enlisted men committed any act warranting the use of firearms by the police.

It is the inflexible rule of the commanders of American soldiers and sailors who are given shore leave or liberty in Latin-American ports to deny them the right to carry any weapons, so that in an affray they rely entirely upon their fists for offense or protection.

NEW YORK CONGRESSMAN DIES VERY SUDDENLY

New York, July 5.—George R. Malby, congressman from the twenty-sixth congressional district of New York state, was found dead tonight in a room which he engaged last night at Murray Hill hotel. According to the coroner's physician, death was due to heart trouble and hardening of the arteries.

Congressman Malby's home was in Ogdensburg N. Y., and he was 54 years old. He was known as a leader among up-state republicans.

His death was discovered when employees of the hotel were unable to arouse him by repeated knocks, and the door of his room finally was forced. The body was fully clothed, and seated on a sofa. It was the coroner's opinion that life had been extinct for several hours.

Near the body was found an open valise, in which were a number of bottles of medicine.

It is not known at the hotel what Congressman Malby's business in New York was at this time. He had not been seen to leave his room after entering it Thursday night. His body will be kept in the hotel until relatives have been notified.

BANDIT KILLED AFTER SHOOTING BANK CASHIER

Rome, Iowa, July 5.—After shooting Cashier F. W. Hileman, of the Rome Savings bank, in both arms this afternoon and escaping with several hundred dollars in cash, Charles Clark, of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, was shot and killed tonight in a running fight with a posse which had pursued him for several hours in automobiles.

The stolen money was recovered.

Clark fired repeatedly at the posse. J. O. Laughlin, a prominent merchant of Rome, one of the leaders of the posse, was shot in the back, but his injuries were not serious.

A bullet fired by some member of the posse pierced Clark's heart.

The injuries of Cashier Hileman are not serious. Clark entered the bank as the cashier was closing up the work of the day, and when Hileman refused to turn over the money lying near the window in the cashier's cage, Clark shot him, grabbed a pile of bills and silver and escaped.

UNDERWOOD ABLE LEADER, SAYS SUN

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 5.—(Special.)—The New York Sun of today in referring editorially to the several stories sent out of Washington dealing with the good humor displayed by Oscar W. Underwood after the convention and the equanimity with which he pursued his daily duties in his old unruffled way, says:

"By eighteen years' experience as a national legislator and his familiar knowledge of the country's need, Mr. Underwood was eminently qualified for the nomination which Governor Wilson received. If practice in lawmaking, as distinguished from the theory of it, counts for anything, Mr. Oscar W. Underwood had superior claims upon the nomination.

"In temperament, poise, judgment and resolution, not to speak of personal integrity and ambition to serve the country, Mr. Underwood was an admirable candidate. In the dispatch of business he has no superior on the democratic side of the house. He is as stable as he is clear in conviction. Never was man less of an opportunist. He does not run after false gods to win popularity. He has never neglected official duties to promote his political fortunes. Such a man would make a high-minded, brave and diligent president, radical enough not to be irrational, conservative enough to be safe.

"In the campaign that has just closed Mr. Underwood bore himself with dignity and propriety, standing by his convictions, yielding nothing to expediency, his record is clear and bright."

Watch a Wonderful Machne.

(From The Detroit News.)

The human crab walked into the jewelry store and faced the proprietor with an air of determination that was frightening, to say the least. He tugged at a fob that was frayed from long wearing, and produced a watch which he laid upon the showcase.

"What kind of stuff do you sell a man when he asks for a timepiece?" he asked with uncomfortable sarcasm.

"Why, we sell the very best that can be made for the money our customers want to spend," responded the proprietor, courteously.

"Well, there's a watch that I bought of you not more than ten years ago. Now it won't run. Went along well enough till lately, and then it began to fuss around without keeping any kind of time at all. I haven't abused it. The blamed thing just won't keep time. Now what's the matter with it, and where do I come in?"

The proprietor dug around in a little heap of tools, slipped an eyeglass into place, pried open the back of the case and squinted long and interestedly. Then he took a slip of paper, and upon it spread an array of figures.

"You've had that watch ten years, we'll say? All right. Now let's see just how much it has done for you. Ten years—that makes eight normal and two leap years, or 3,652 days it has been running in your pocket and under your pillow.

"You see that stubby, pokey little hour hand?"

The human crab looked his disgust at the question, but grunted his assent.

"Well, that little hand has gone around the face of that watch 7,304 times since you bought it, and no one knows how many times while it was being tested in the factory and waiting in my showcase for a customer. And that minute hand—why, the amount of traveling it has done is simply amazing. Now, just think, it has gone around the dial 87,648 times. Do you know what that means? Suppose you were to drag your finger along the pavement from the city hall to Palmer park. It'd be worn down a little bit, wouldn't it? Well, there you have it. That flimsy little hand has traveled 10,820 yards, which is more than six miles."

"Well, I'll be—"

"Now, don't get excited," interposed the jeweler. "That's only the minute hand. Look at the second hand. It's so small you have to look twice to see it; but think of the work it does for you. That little pointer has pegged off the seconds so long that it has made 5,258,880 revolutions since you slipped it out of the velvet case and into your jeans. You thought six miles was going some for the minute hand. That little fellow has a record of 123 miles.

"Here, look inside and see what's going on." He thrust the opened mechanism under the eye of the human crab.

"That escape wheel, see it? That wheel is stammering a little now, you tell me. Well, have you given it credit for revolving 62,588,800 times? Have you stopped to reflect that its fifteen teeth have come in contact with each pallet more than 788,000,000 times? Of course you haven't. Blame it, that's the trouble with you kickers. You never stop to think out anything."

The jeweler was getting sore.

"Here. You think I've been talking big figures. That insignificant bit of a balance has vibrated 1,577,000,644 times, and pick out any point you want to on its rim and you'll find that that point has covered a distance that is equal to twice the circumference of the earth—50,000 miles.

"Now, do you think you got your money's worth out of that cheap watch?"

"I guess I'll look at some of your other watches," said the human crab, meekly, "I need a new one, anyway."

KEYSTONE PARTY FOR DEMOCRACY

Fusion on State Treasurer Candidate Is Feature of Convention.

Philadelphia, July 5.—Fusion with the democrats on a candidate for state treasurer to be voted for in November was decided upon by the Keystone party, the reform political organization of Pennsylvania, which held its state convention here today, but the delegates refused to commit the party to the support of Woodrow Wilson. The latter action was taken on the ground that the Keystone party as a state organization includes followers in national affairs of both the republican and democratic parties.

After a minority report from the committee on resolutions pledging the party to support the democratic national candidates had voted down 98 to 26, Watson B. Adair, of Pittsburg, read a statement signed by a number of delegates saying they intended to join a party now forming which will be known as the "progressive party." It was stated that Wilson-Marshall electors will be placed on this ticket.

The majority of the resolutions committee recommended that no stand be taken by the convention regarding the presidential candidate. The platform adopted favors the adoption of the initiative, referendum and recall. A woman suffrage plank also was adopted.

Callahan Now a Sleuth.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 5.—(Special.) Former Detective Dan Callahan, of this city, is now a special agent of the bureau of investigation, department of justice, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga. He is on his way to Atlanta. Dan Callahan was for many years one of the most popular and most successful detectives on the local force, until the recently elected regime of Mayor Henry T. Hunt reduced him to a patrolman. Callahan had achieved national fame as a sleuth.

Tarred Clothes for Cornerstone

Perhaps the most unusual corner stone of any church in the United States is at Ellsworth, Maine. In the big metal box set in the heart of the stone, the historical work, "The Catholic Church of the United States" (Catholic Editing Company, New York) is authority for the statement, there are a number of tarsoaked clothes, once owned and worn by Rev. Sebastian Bapst, a noted priest of that denomination. During the "know-nothing" riots in Maine, the clerke, by order of a town board, whose members resented his aggressive enterprise in religious matters, was taken from his rectory in the middle of the night, tarred and feathered and ridden out of town on a greased rail with orders not to return under pain of death. Undaunted by the threat, the priest returned and as a memento of his experience deposited his tarred clothes in the corner stone of the edifice he was building at the time.

TEDDY PARTY IN NEW YORK STATE

William H. Hotchkiss.

The Roosevelt followers in New York will put up an entire state ticket soon. At the recent Republican state convention they were practically read out of the party. Timothy Woodruff, who was formerly one of the big guns in the Republican organization, will follow Roosevelt. William H. Hotchkiss, another prominent New York Republican and insurance commissioner under Governor Hughes, has announced his allegiance to the third party. William L. Ward, who worked so hard for Roosevelt at the Chicago convention, says he will stick to the old organization. Wm. Prendergast, comptroller of New York City, who was to have made the Roosevelt nominating speech at the Chicago convention, may be the new party's candidate for governor.

BIG ENCAMPMENT BEGINS TODAY

The big annual encampment of regulars and militia commences today, when troops from four states enter the camp at Anniston, Ala., for ten days of army maneuvers.

Colonel John T. Van Orsdale, of the Seventeenth infantry, Fort McPherson, is camp commander and left the city some days ago to take charge. Four companies of the Seventeenth are there, including company A, which went ahead two weeks ago to make the necessary preparations for the coming of the militia. While Colonel Van Orsdale is away Lieutenant Colonel Hale is in command at the fort.

The militia encampment is financed yearly by the national government for the purpose of giving the national guard the experience of camp life and maneuvering with soldiers of the line. It was feared that the non-passage of the army and navy appropriation bill, which caused such a stir for two weeks, would prohibit the camps this year, as it provided the funds for transportation and maintenance, but arrangements was fortunately made in time by the war department.

South Carolina, Alabama, North Carolina and Tennessee troops are in camp now until July 15. From July 6 to August 4 the camp will be occupied by militia from South Carolina, Alabama and Kentucky.

The Georgia troops are scheduled for the second period of ten days, July 15 to 26. Atlanta's own regiment, the Fifth, will be the only complete regiment there representing a single city, Colonel E. E. Pomeroy will be in command.

Well Named.

PEABODY GRADS MEET AT ATHENS

Association of Teachers Effects Permanent Organization at Meeting Thursday.

Athens, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The alumni of Georgia of the Peabody College for Teachers at Nashville, of whom there are between 200 and 300 teaching now in the various schools of the state, met today at noon in the assembly room of the library of the University of Georgia, the Georgia vice president of the Alumni Association, Professor Kyle T. Alfriend, of Macon, presiding.

The meeting for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization in this state, was called by Dr. T. J. Woofter, president of the Alumni Association, and dean of the school of education at the University of Georgia. Miss Stella C. Center, the alumni vice president for Mississippi, was also present. Dr. Bruce C. Payne, president of the Peabody college, was here and made an address upon "Peabody's Future Policy."

Dr. Charles E. Little, a Georgia man, who has recently placed in a high faculty position in the college, was on the program also for an address on "The Present Status of the College." Dr. Woofter spoke on "The Old Peabody." "The Alumni's Debt and Opportunity" was discussed by Professor E. C. Branson, of the Georgia State Normal school. Professor J. S. Wampler, Professor George White, Jr., of the Tenth District Agricultural school, Professor J. R. Moseley, and others.

There are a number of local alumni, and they were present in full force, with a large number who were already here for the fifth annual High School Association meeting of Georgia. The general result of the meeting will be to increase the amount of information in the state as to the objects and plan of the Peabody college in its new life of usefulness and its relation to the betterment of educational conditions in the south by training teachers and to create sentiment for more general support and patronage of the Nashville college.

YOUNG WOMAN HAS CHANCE FOR LIFE

Miss Sallie Berry Accidentally Shot While Acting as Peacemaker.

"She is a brave little woman, and is making a strong fight. I believe she will win."

The young woman was hurried to Atlanta Thursday afternoon. She was almost dead from the loss of blood, and weak from exhaustion, caused by the long journey to this city.

The bullet lodged in the spinal column, causing partial paralysis, and the surgeons decided on an operation. The young woman consented, and Thursday night the bullet was removed.

Last night Dr. G. H. Noble stated that there was an improvement noticeable in the condition of the patient, and he believed that she would survive the wound. He explained that he could not make a definite statement until the danger of complications was passed.

According to the details of the shooting, which reached Atlanta Friday morning, Miss Ruth Berry and her mother had a quarrel, and in the heat of anger the daughter reached for a pistol. Her sister Sallie grasped her hand and, in the scuffle, the pistol was discharged.

The wounded girl was placed in an auto driven by T. A. Walker, of Doraville, and hurried to Atlanta to undergo an operation.

LAST STAGE OF LORIMER CASE IS NOW IN SIGHT

Washington, July 5.—With Senator Meyers, of Montana, speaking on the Lorimer election case today, the contest over the junior Illinois senator's right to his seat entered its last stage. The senate has agreed to vote on the case finally on the "legislative day of July 6," but as many speeches are to be made, including one by Senator Lorimer, the vote probably will not be reached before the middle of next week.

Soon after the senate met today, however, Senator Myers waived his right to speak, that the naval appropriation bill might be take nup. He will speak tomorrow.

SMITH IS IN RACE FOR LEGISLATURE

The Well-Known Attorney Announces His Candidacy on Progressive Platform.

Attorney John Y. Smith, one of the best-known members of the Atlanta bar, yesterday issued his formal announcement as a candidate for election to the Georgia legislature from Fulton county, subject to the August primary.

Mr. Smith's announcement was not in the nature of a surprise. Some time ago, at the solicitation of his friends, he tentatively agreed to enter the race, and his formal announcement is the result of efforts which have been brought to bear upon him to enter political life.

Mr. Smith enters the campaign on a progressive platform, as his announcement will show. He says:

"I desire to announce my candidacy for the state legislature from Fulton county, subject to the democratic primary, to be held in August.

"If elected, I shall earnestly strive to carry out the wishes of the people of this county respecting any and all measures which may be presented to the legislature.

"To this end I shall appreciate the vote of every man who believes in an honest and courageous administration of public affairs. My candidacy does not represent any political faction. I desire, in so far as it is possible, to have it represent all political factions.

"I recognize the responsibility of the position, and in making this my announcement for one of the three representatives allowed to Fulton county, I promise a devoted and painstaking interest in all measures affecting the general welfare of the people of this county."

GUERRILLA FIGHT FOLLOWS DEFEAT

Organized Revolution in Mexico Gives Way to Bushwhacking.

El Paso, Texas, July 5.—Organized revolution in Mexico, in so far as it simulated a military campaign of concentrated forces, was by today's movement of the rebel army shown to have ended, and in its place there was substituted a guerrilla warfare, threatening widespread devastation in northwestern Mexico. Five troop trains bore the retreating insurrectos from the vicinity of the city of Chihuahua to Juarez, opposite here, and before the day was over it was expected that most of rebels would be sent southwest from Juarez, a distance of 75 miles to Casas Grandes, from which point it was intended to effect an entrance to the rich mining state of Senora.

Having abandoned Chihuahua to the federals, the rebels destroyed all bridges between Bachimba, where the last battle occurred, and Suaez, 30 miles north of Chihuahua, the small station at which the rebel outposts are now gathered. The evacuation of the city of Chihuahua means that the zone of rebel control will be greatly diminished, Juarez being the only important point that remains.

Army Disintegrating.

General Pascual Orozco, the rebel chief, spent the night at Suaez, but was expected in Juarez today to direct the movements of various bands into which the rebel army is now disintegrating. Juarez is at present the rebel capital, trainloads of archives having been moved there within the last few days. Though the invasion of Senora means a rambling campaign in the mountains, the rebels, most of them mountaineers, believe themselves equal to it. The revolution in that form, they say, will prove more vexatious to the government than an organized campaign. To check the rebel invasion of Sonora, the Mexican government is moving forces from Agua Prieta and western Sonora. Fully 4,000 men are believed to be under way to intercept the rebels. General Sanjins left Agua Prieta today for Frontora Senora to take command of the main column, and while the forces of General Sanjinez are engaging the rebels on the state line between Sonora and Chihuahua the army of General Huerta is to move up from the city of Chihuahua along the Mexican northwestern railroad toward Casas Grandes and attack the rebels from the rear.

Rebels to Mobilize.

Though the rebel forces are being gathered at points around Juarez they will not long be in that vicinity, the real mobilization point being Casas Grandes, southwest of here, the gateway of Senora.

The next battle, if any occurs, will be at Casas Grandes. At Juarez, there is little likelihood of a fight as the rebels plan to withdraw most of their forces toward Sonora.

Reports early today were to the effect that no federals had as yet entered the city of Chihuahua, though a detachment of cavalry under General Rabago was said to be nearing the town.

A man has very little use for a fan that doesn't run by electricity or the tabulated score from the big leagues.

BELIEVE JETER ALIVE AND WELL

That J. M. Jeter, missing cashier of the Citizens' bank, of Geneva, is alive and well, and will return just as soon as he learns that his absence has alarmed his family, is the belief of detectives who started a systematic search for the banker.

Jeter was in Atlanta on June 17. He is believed to be the patient who called at the office of Dr. C. H. Christian, a dentist, on Whitehall street, and had some work done on his teeth. Dr. Christian is certain that his strange patient was Jeter. He paid the dentist $50 and said that he was going to Birmingham and from there he was going to Warm Springs.

The banker was seen by a number of people while he was in Atlanta, according to the local police. To one person he said that he was going into North Georgia, where he had some business to attend to, and would return to this city just as soon as possible. He also intimated that he was making arrangements to go to Pensacola, Fla., where he also had some business which demanded his immediate attention. Said a detective who is working on the case:

"I don't think that the banker has met with foul play. He was not the sort of man to tempt thieves by displaying his bank roll, and I don't believe that he carried his money carelessly. There is a possibility that he is keeping his movements a secret from his relatives and friends in order that they might not interfere with his work."

His son, F. L. Jeter, of Pensacola, stated yesterday that his father was never in the habit of going away without keeping his friends and relatives posted as to his whereabouts. He did not tell anyone what he was going on the trip for. It was known that he took $3,000 with him, but the money is believed to have been invested.

The Birmingham detectives have not been able to get a trace of the missing banker. They are also trying to trace Jeter from Warm Springs.

DAVIS IS HEAD OF CUTHBERT BANK

Cuthbert, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The stockholders of the Bank of Randolph, one of Cuthbert's strong and popular institutions, elected the following officers: F. H. Davis, president; R. D. Gay, vice president; F. M. Reid, cashier. The following directors were elected: F. H. Davis, R. D. Gay, J. W. Andrews, W. D. Hammack, J. E. Martin, A. J. Moye and W. J. Wade. The bank declared a dividend of 8 per cent and set aside a nice sum to the surplus. This bank recently decided to merge into a national bank, under the name of the First National Bank of Cuthbert. Steps looking to a formal organization of a national bank have been taken.

Negroes in Jubilee.

Cuthbert, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—"The Glorious Fourth" was much celebrated in Cuthbert by the colored citizens. Excursion rates on all three lines of road brought hundreds of negroes here from all nearby towns. The negro band of Cuthbert furnished music. Baseball games were had with teams from Americus and Eufaula. Entertainment was furnished at Payne High school and dinner at South Side park. Out of the many hundred negroes in town not a single disturbance happened during the day, the crowd being remarkable for its good order and behavior.

Miss Phillips Elected.

Cuthbert, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The trustees of the Cuthbert public school have completed the selection of the faculty for the next year by the election of Miss Phillips to teach the seventh grade.

Old Vets Celebrate.

Cuthbert, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Many Randolph county veterans and hundreds of Randolph county people are at Arlington today, participating in the veterans' reunion at that place. Most of the Randolph county veterans are in uniform, the camp here recently determined to purchase uniforms. Last year the reunion was held in Cuthbert, and was one of the greatest and largest attended occasions ever held in Cuthbert.

Invitation Extended.

Cuthbert, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Cuthbert will invite the State Agricultural Society, at its meeting in Dublin next month, to hold its next annual meeting in this city. Last year Cuthbert extended an invitation to the society, but gave way to Dublin, with the understanding that the next meeting would be held in this city. Colonel R. F. Crittenden and Rev. W. D. Hammack, both of this county, are officers and conspicuous members of the society, and are enthusiastic over the prospect of having the society meet in their home county.

Treasurer May Go.

Cuthbert, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The county commissioners of this county adopted resolution at its last meeting favoring abolishing the office of county treasurer and placing solicitors general on salary. The representative and senator were urged to support any measure looking to this, or introduce bills to this end. The commissioners also directed that supply for at least two steel bridges be kept on hand constantly, so that when needed on road work the work would not be delayed.

Randolph County Fair.

Cuthbert, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Randolph county is to have a fair this fall. The fair is being promoted by the Woman's club and the schools of the county. The city and county officials, as well as people generally, are co-operating, with a view to making the occasion a great success.

RURAL CARRIERS NAME OFFICERS

R. L. King, of Covington, Made President at Closing Meeting.

The Georgia Rural Letter Carriers' Association closed their annual convention in Atlanta yesterday by electing officers for the ensuing year and choosing Atlanta as the place for their next year's convention.

R. L. King, of Covington, was re-elected president of the association, defeating R. J. Proctor, of Statesboro. G. W. Gammage was named as vice president and George Bond was again named as secretary and treasurer. Paul Lindsay, L. D. King and George Bond were elected as delegates to the association's national convention, which is to be held in Nashville.

After hearing the reports of the committees on credentials and resolutions, President King addressed the delegates, stating that the association was in an excellent condition in every way. Last year the organization was in financial straits, owning several hundred dollars, but the treasury has now paid all debts and has a small surplus.

Holden Makes Speech.

L. E. Brown, president of the Georgia Cotton Growers' Association, addressed the convention on the handling of the cotton situation, and the good roads question, and Hon. John N. Holder, speaker of the house of representatives, addressed the body, stressing the importance of good roads for the R. F. D. men in Georgia.

Paul Lindsay, former national president of the R. L. C. A., and a delegate to their national convention in Minneapolis, reported to the delegates the proceedings of the national convention and paid the highest compliments to Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw, declaring him to be the best friend of the rural letter carriers in this country. Mr. Lindsay jumped on W. D. Brown, editor of the R. F. D. News, with both feet. He declared that the official organ of the letter men should be owned and edited by men who really had the interests of the association at heart and not by men who were interested in the organization from merely remunerative reasons.

Mr. Lindsay touched on the parcels post delivery and said that he was in favor of having the government give the letter men all the work it wanted to, on condition that the men should receive the salary they deserve.

Slaton Makes Talk.

Hon. John M. Slaton, president of the senate and candidate for governor, was introduced by Mr. Lindsay as the next governor of Georgia and received a tremendous ovation. The keynote of Mr Slaton's speech was the silent power of the letter men of the state of Georgia and their close association with the progress of the people of the state. He declared that they were in a better position than any other body of men he knew of to help educate and inform the great masses of the farmers of their state.

He was strongly in favor of making every road traversed by the letter carriers in this state a public highway. In this way he argued that before the elapse of many years, there would be a complete network of roads connecting the towns and counties of the state.

The following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, That a public highway commission be created to have full control of all roads and bridges, to be allowed to have complete control of hiring road engineers, daily laborers, convicts and the selection and classifying of road building material, testing of all road building machinery and reporting to all county road officials the results of their experience."

BRYAN STATES HE DIDN'T WANT JOB

Says He Merely Wanted Roosevelt to Have No Excuse for Running.

Lincoln Neb. July 5.—"Home folks" were at the station today when W. J. Bryan's train arrived. They lined the streets of the business district through which Mr. Bryan preceded by a brass band and followed by a long string of shouting enthusiasts passed.

Mr. Bryan was escorted to a local hotel where he mounted the seat of his car and delivered a short address. Mrs. Bryan was with him. Cheers for her were freely interspersed with those for her husband.

The Nebraskan said he had not deluded himself into believing he could be nominated at Baltimore; that he felt it would have been easier to obtain the republican nomination; that after the Chicago convention he knew the democrats must name a man so progressive that Roosevelt would have no excuse for running, and that if Clark had come out, as Wilson did, on the temporary chairmanship, the result of the convention might have been different.

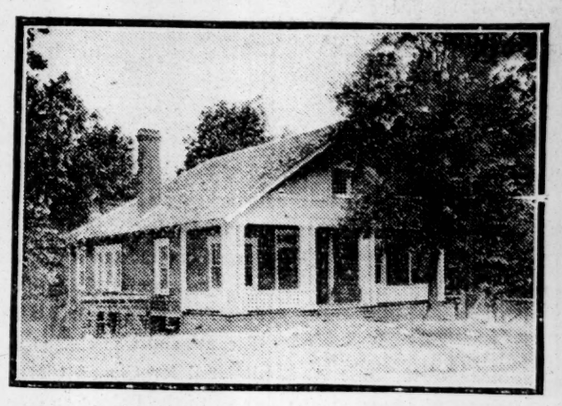

EQUAL PAY WILL BE HER PLATFORM

Woman Candidate Announces for President of Educational Association.

Chicago, July 5.—Attendance in Chicago of 15,000 educators, representing almost every college and university in the country and the educational system of every state, from the rural school to the metropolitan high school, was assured by the enrollment begun today by the fiftieth annual convention of the National Educational Association, which opens its preliminary work tomorrow.

Miss Grace C. Strachan, district superintendent of schools of Brooklyn, N. Y., is being supported as a candidate for president of the association, in opposing Dr. Swann, of Swatmore, to succeed Carroll C. Perus, of Milwaukee. Her fight for the enactment of laws to give women equal pay with men in educational work is her chief plank.

--You Can Buy It With Your RENT Money--

The house shown here is a new 6-room bungalow. It has 3 bedrooms, large living room, dining room and kitchen; china closet and pantry; large veranda, and hall running to latticed back porch. Rooms are furnished with cabinet mantels with tile; mission finish; solid bronze hardware. Sliding doors between living room and dining room. The sidewalk and yard walk, and concrete steps in terrace. The lot is on Seminole avenue. It measures 75x130 feet, and is beautifully shaded. The large shade tree in front of the house adds considerably to the beauty and attractiveness of the home.

Just go out to beautiful CAPITOL VIEW with MR. W. D. BEATIE, and let him show you what a delightful, close-in suburb it is, what excellent facilities it offers in the way of school, church, street car and grocery store advantages, features that are of great importance to a community. Let him show you some of the CAPITOL VIEW homes he built YEARS ago, and notice how neat and substantial they all are. And be sure that he shows you the nice, homelike place pictured above.

Could you do any better than to buy this pretty place for a small initial payment and small monthly payments, like RENT? DO THIS, and stop paying out money every month without getting anything in return to show for it.

You can see Mr. Beatie at 207 Equitable Building, or reach him over either phone, 3520.

GENERAL HOKE LAID TO REST

Many Veterans Honor Memory of Late Confederate Leader.

Raleigh, N. C., July 5.—With the state house closed in honor of his memory and several of the state officers among the long list of honorary pallbearers, General R. F. Hoke was laid to rest here this morning in Oakwood cemetery after services at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

The church was filled to capacity and several hundred were turned away. The floral tributes were the most beautiful at any funeral in Raleigh in some time. General Julian S. Carr, commander of the North Carolina division, United Confederate Veterans, led a long line of veterans in the procession to the cemetery.

General Bennet H. Young, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, sent a message of condolence.

REBELS ARE WHIPPED WITH SMALL LOSSES

At General Huerta's Headquarters, Bachimba, July 5.—The brief resistance of the rebels which preceded their retreat caused comparatively little loss of life, but the destruction of the railroad for 40 miles to the city of Chihuahua is so extensive as to prevent the arrival of the main federal columns into the former rebel capital, for at least three days.

General Huerta has a repair gang of 1,000 men with him and expects to repair the road in three days.

HURST IS SHOT BY CAPT. HORKAN

Well-Known Farmer of Moultrie Wounded Twice in Pistol Fight.

Moultrie, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—John W. Hurst, a well-known farmer of the county, was shot twice this morning by Captain G. A. Horkan. The shooting took place in Captain Horkan's private office, where he had retreated from an attack on him by Hurst. Hurst was struck in the mouth by one bullet, which shattered his jaw, and the second lodged in his arm. It is not thought his wounds will prove fatal, though they are serious.

ARMY AVIATORS FALL 400 FEET

Salisbury Plain, England, July 5.—Captain E. B. Loraine and Sergeant Major Wilson, of the army flying corps, were killed this morning while flying over the great military encampment here. They were taking their usual early morning practice. The aeroplane had reached a height of 400 feet when it lost its balance, turned over and fell to the roadway.

No monument has been ordered for the dying G. O. P. elephant.

Now the presidential bees will go on a wild hunt for the honey-hive.

The summer dog-catcher would have been death on houn'-dawgs, anyway.

Some seek office, but that of the vice presidency has to be forced upon them.

The latest prize fight was not so fierce as the political ones witnessed recently.

Water was offered for sale at the Baltimore convention and a few purchasers were found.

While swatting the "bosses," of course the trusts will come in for the usual knock-out.

Notwithstanding the example of two big conventions, the Fourth carried off the prize for sanity.

Oyster Bay returns to its place on the map, and is doing its best to make as red a splotch as ever.

An exchange says "The man who formerly rocked the boat has recovered his sanity." But he never had any.

The Roosevelt convention may be held in August, though it doesn't need a month with such extra hot stuff in it.

Champ Clark should be comforted by the knowledge that they are not kicking that houn'-dawg around any more.

Though they said the powder trust had been "put out of business," there was loud evidence of it July 4.

It will be impossible to persuade a returned delegate to run for the chairmanship of a local political meeting.

Now that Governor Marshall is out for a different job, George Ade may have another chance to run for governor of Indiana.

It's well for the weather man that he has no idea of running for an office where the people could get a fair chance at him.

Since all parties are praising the farmers, down-and-out delegates might obtain work in wider and more remunerative fields.

So used to trouble now, the New York woman who is running for president on the socialist ticket won't make any difference.

Says The Philadelphia Record: "At least it has been proved that over a thousand democrats can stick together for a week without a riot."

"We use dynamite to produce rain in Texas," says George Bailey. Is it possible, in a state of so many heavenly angels, they haven't the faith to pray for it?

MR. BRYAN AND THE PRIMARY.

In calling attention in a Chicago interview to the striking features of the Baltimore platform, William Jennings Bryan said:

"In our platform the declaration favoring direct primaries will attract much attention."

The less Mr. Bryan has to say about direct primaries from this time on, the better it will be for the cause, for the advocates of the system will be confronted at every turn by his demonstration of what a simple matter it is to disregard the mandate of a direct primary.

For several years Mr. Bryan has been an active advocate of direct presidential preferential primaries, claiming that a state's vote in national conventions should be instructed by the people rather than being subjected to the whim and caprice of "boss" manipulation. In other words, no system should be tolerated which would permit one man or a few men to control a state's vote.

The state of Nebraska by legislative act ordered a direct presidential expression from all parties. Mr. Bryan was a candidate for delegate and was elected at the same primary that overwhelmingly declared for Champ Clark, instructing the state's democratic delegates to the Baltimore convention accordingly.

Nobody believed that Mr. Bryan was really at heart for Clark, and before the ink on his credentials was scarcely dry he was campaigning the country for another candidate. At the Baltimore convention he voted for Clark until he found a pretext to leave him at the very convenient moment when his vote had reached its apex, with a majority of the delegates in his favor, and with all indications pointing to his early nomination.

The direct presidential primary is all right, but if it is to be effective some plan must be adopted to give it binding force, so that it cannot be made the plaything of any kind of a "boss", Bryan or otherwise, to use just so long as it may serve a political purpose and to be thrown aside with contempt when by so doing a selfish end may be served.

Any political trickster in the country can give a better excuse for ignoring the instruction of a direct primary than Mr. Bryan gave when, as a delegate to the Baltimore convention, he contemptuously disregarded the mandate of the democrats of his state.

We say again, therefore, that for the good of the cause, the less Mr. Bryan has to say about the direct primary, the better it will be. What is the use of a primary if it does not direct?

THE COLONEL'S SUPERFLUITY.

In the preliminary draft for the platform for his "national progressive" third party Colonel Roosevelt proposes as novel planks provisions that shall take especial care of the farmer and the wage-worker. He holds that the platforms of neither of the two great parties take sufficient cognizance of these classes, an omission which he believes needs to be remedied.

Passing by the fact that perhaps the colonel is not unmindful of the political value of a specific appeal to these two classes, it remains as a matter of record that his promises of relief have already been discounted both by democratic pledge and performance.

The latter is written in the constructive tariff reduction legislation engineered by Oscar Underwood, as well as many bills by democratic representatives and senators aimed at not only widening the markets for the products of the American, but also making the federal agricultural department serve the farmer more genuinely.

So far as pledges are concerned, the Baltimore platform bristles with issues that bear with pronounced emphasis on the welfare of the agriculturist. What is more, the democrats have already given earnest of intention to fulfill such pledges, while the "old guard" republican wing has ignored virtually every promise it made, not only to the farmer, but equally to every element of American citizenship.

The provisional draft of the "national progressive" party given out for publication carries too close a resemblance to the clutching at straws to break the tidal wave toward the democratic pary.

WHY NOT ALSO A SANE CHRISTMAS?

The country is viewing with a good deal of complacency the decrease of the death and injury roster that used invariably to follow the celebration of the Fourth of July, proceeding therewith to plume itself on increasing "sanity" in its annual celebrations.

It may seem slightly anachronistic to refer to Christmas at this time of the year, but the temptation to argue that a sane Yuletide is even more imperative than a sane Independence day is too strong to be resisted.

It is natural to expect ebullition of the more or less noisy variety on the anniversary of the birthday of earth's greatest republic, an event that gave genuine liberty an impetus that increases with each year. The occasion is well one upon which the eagle may pardonably scream, and young and old America join in demonstrations in which patriotism is the prevailing keynote.

Christmas day is different. It marks the celebration of the birthday of the world's Redeemer. If at any time and under any conditions solemnity should mark the observance of any anniversary it is this one. Instead of the roaring cannon-cracker and, what is infinitely worse, the indiscriminate drunkenness, brawling and murder that make the day a crimson one, there should be peace, quietude, a mighty impulse to the tightening of the bonds that exist between humanity irrespective of creeds, a united thrusting forward of the propaganda with which the gentle Nazarene will ultimately bring the wide world under his wholesome dominion.

Sanity and restraint are at all times valuable assets in an individual or a people. We incline to the belief that they would be especially happy if made a dominant part of the celebration of the birth of Him who has come down the centuries with a specific appeal for just these traits—sanity and restraint.

SUCCESS OF THE "ROCK HILL" PLAN.

Reduction of cotton acreage for the current season and support of prices for the season just passed are achievements in which the "Rock Hill" plan has been a material factor. The plan was initiated by John G. Anderson, of Rock Hill, S. C., from which town the propaganda took its designation. Later its materialization was put under the supervision of E. J. Watson, commissioner of agriculture of South Carolina, and president of the Southern Cotton Congress.

Mr. Watson's final report estimates that, as a result of the operation of the idea of Mr. Anderson, the output for the current season will be reduced by 2,500,000 bales. Such calculations are, essentially, tentative, but it is not necessary to accept them as wholly accurate to believe that the method of holding down the acreage originated by the South Carolina man has been a strong contributory factor in the production of what promises to be a much smaller cotton crop than that of last year, with consequent higher prices.

Every influence that tends to introduce increasing elements of co-operation, of science and of business ability in the planting and marketing of the south's greatest staple crop, is a benefaction to the section. Mr. Anderson deserves the gratitude of the farmers of the southern states. His assistants, notably Frank Weldon, of Georgia, are due commensurate credit. All and singular, they have had to labor against heavy odds and often upon scanty remuneration and expense allowances.

When You're Through With Summer.

I.

When you're through the summertime joy will come with Fall,
When we'll have the candy-pullin's, an' swing around the hall!
When we'll have the candy-pilin's, n' the cider will be sweet,
An' the fiddle will make music for a feller's willin' feet!

II.

It's comin' 'long, good people,—the happier time of Fall,
When the doves are on a picnic an' you hear the partridge call;
When we have the old cane-grindin's where the juice is drippin' sweet,
An' the cabin floor will answer to a feller's willin' feet!

III.

Comin' 'long, good people, with the rabbits on the run—
The dogs that bay the 'possum, an' the sharp crack of the gun!
Summertime is lovely, Spring is always prime,
But when Fall comes we're ready for a hallelula time!

ZACH HAGERDOM DIES; FUNERAL ON SUNDAY

West Point, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—News has reached here of the death of Zach Hagedorn, one of West Point's most prominent and wealthiest citizens, which occurred in Philadelphia this morning from heart failure.

Mr. Hageuorn was born in Gershagen, West Phadia, Germany, April 18, 1856, and came to this country in 1871, first making his home in Pennsylvania and in 1873 came to West Point and began work for his uncle, J. J. Hagedorn. In a few years he was admitted into the firm, J. J. Hagedorn & Co., and has been the senior member of this firm for a number of years.

He was vice president of the Bank of West Point since organization in 1897, a director in the Eady Baker Grocery Company, a director in the Western of Alabama Railroad Company, vice president of the West Point Grocery Company, a director and large stockholder in the Lang Manufacturing Company, president and treasurer of the Atlanta Mining and Clay Company, of Macon, Ga., and a member of the local board of education and was interested in many enterprises here, Atlanta, Macon, Columbus, LaGrange and many other places in Georgia and Alabama.

He was a large, open-hearted, open-handed and public-spirited citizen and his loss will be very much felt not alone by the individual citizen, but also by the public institutions in which he took so much interest.

He is survived by his wife and nine children, three sisters, Mrs. Reuben Herzfeld and Mrs. Isaac Frousin, of Alexander City, Ala., and Mrs. Joseph Cohen, of Holland, and three brothers, Levi Hagedorn, of Germany; Philip Hagedorn, of West Point, Ga., and Joseph Hagedorn, of Natchez, Miss.

His remains will reach here on Saturday evening and interment will take place on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock and the services will be conducted by the Masons, of which he was a member.

The news came as a great shock to his many friends and out of respect for his memory the Lang Manufacturing Company closed down and the flag is at half-mast.

REV. BURTON HALL WILL LECTURE TO MEN ONLY

Rev. Burton A. Hall, of Texas, will deliver a lecture "to men only" at the Broughton Tabernacle Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Dr. Hall is widely known in many states, and many comments upon his preaching have appeared in the press of the various cities.

The Dayton, Tenn., Herald calls Dr. Hall "a gifted orator, a polished scholar and a consecrated Christian," and many similar excerpts might be quoted from reports of his meetings.

The meeting at the Tabernacle will be of much interest, and the church is expecting a large attendance of men.

RAILROAD GOSSIP

R. C. Clayton, who has been traveling this territory for the Canadian Pacific railroad as traveling passenger agent, with headquarters in New York, has recently been promoted to be city passenger agent at Philadelphia. He has already entered on his new duties and his transfer will be a source of regret to the local railroad men. He is succeeded by E. G. Cresborough.

J. S. Rose, chief clerk of the Santa Fe, will leave in a few days for an extended trip through the west. He will go out by the southern route, returning the other way, and will visit St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Topeka and other points.

With the close of the tourist season, the foreign line offices in the city have had a let-up from the rush of business which engrossed them some months ago. At the other offices everybody has been kept strictly on the run, however, keeping up with the travel to mountain and seashore resorts. Large crowds are leaving every week for Wrightsville Beach, Florida points and the beautiful western North Carolina country.

NYM JENKINS IS SENT TO STATE SANITARIUM

Savannah, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—On a warrant sworn out by his mother, Nym C. Jenkins, a young man from Atlanta, was adjudged insane in the court of ordinary here today.

Jenkins had been held since early in June on charges of beating his board bill and stealing a trunk that belonged to former State Bar Association President Alex W. Smith, of Atlanta. Both of these charges had been adjusted, however, and Jenkins would have been discharged if his mother had not desired that he be sent to the state sanitarium.

In many ways Jenkins is an exceptionally bright young man, but he suffers from mental and physical lapses which get him into trouble. His mother, who came from Atlanta to see what was best to be done with Jenkins, after counseling with friends here, concluded that for the boy's own protection the sanitarium course is the best one.

Jenkins was stopping at the Tybee hotel while the Georgia Bar Association was in session. President Smith's trunk got lost in a shuffle and the Atlanta lawyer had to wire home for clothes. He thought the trunk had been misplaced by the Central railway baggage men and had put in a claim for his property before the trunk was recovered from Jenkins' possession.

Jenkins claimed the trunk was rolled into his room by mistake and that he took advantage of the situation. He opened the trunk, took the clothes out, loaned a dress suit to a policeman, who appeared in it on the policemen's picnic in daylight. Practically everything was restored to the trunk, however.

The other charge against Jenkins was that on beating his board bill. When he got ready to leave the hotel he presented a draft on an Atlanta bank. This was turned down. He was arrested for attempting to beat his board bill. The following morning the money for the hotel came to Jenkins from his mother, and this charge was dropped. It was after the criminal features of the case had all been adjusted that the lunacy proceedings were determined upon.

MAYOR SAYS ALDERMEN SHOULD GET $3 A WEEK

Macon, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Mayor Moore has written the three representatives in the legislature from Bibb county urging them to support the bill providing for charter amendment increasing the pay of Macon aldermen to $3 for the each weekly meeting.

The bill provides that in no case can an alderman receive more than $150 per annum. The members of council have not asked for the increase in pay and the bill is introduced solely at the request of Mayor Moore, who feels that the duties of aldermen are strenuous enough to merit the three dollars a week.

There is a rumor that an amendment to the charter will be asked making the mayor and chairman of the finance committee ex-officio members of the board of water commissioners.

Mayor Moore says that he has nothing to do with it and if such a movement has been started it has been done to inject politics into the water commission and he will not be a party to it.

Socialists Name Tickets.

Macon, Ga., July 5.—The state socialist convention came to a close this afternoon. Presidential electors were elected and the following state ticket was decided on:

Governor, A. F. Castlebury, Columbus; secretary of state, M. W. N. Gibbs, Waycross; comptroller general, W. C. Seigler, Augusta; attorney general, H. C. Harris, Macon; commissioner of agriculture, W. E. Johns, Tifton; prison commissioner, C. K. Lawson, Tallapoosa; railroad commissioner, J. D. Linville, Waycross; state treasurer, Al Schwartz, Atlanta; pension commissioner, H. H. Sapp, Macon; commissioner of commerce and labor, G. E. Daniel, Augusta; school commissioner, R. L. Hicks, Bainbridge.

WOODWARD NOT READY TO TALK ABOUT RACE

James G. Woodward, ex-mayor of Atlanta, who has been placed in the list of candidates for mayor this year by an afternoon paper, was asked yesterday by a reporter of The Constitution if he was a candidate. His reply was:

"I have never made any statement about running for mayor, and I will not do so now. Let the papers publish what they please and I will do my own talking when I get ready. There has been a number of citizens who have spoken to me about the matter, but I have made no statement to them privately and I am certain I have made none for publication. If I get ready to talk later on I will let the reporters know it."

Baptists Meet.

Lyerly, Ga., July 5.—The fifth Sunday meeting of the Chattanooga Baptist association met with Perennial Springs church, near Berryton, on Saturday and Sunday, June 29-30, and held a very interesting meeting. A fine program was carried out. A. T. Sentell was elected moderator and J. N. Rush secretary. The opening sermon on Saturday was preached in the absense of Rev. V. L. Herndon by Rev. W. M. Griffith on the subject of "Christian Citizenship."

The delightful hospitality of the people of the Perennial Springs community was shown by the large quantity of eatables, which was spread upon the ground on both days at noon,

FORAGE CROPS ARE SHOWING UP BETTER THAN CORN AND COTTON

Potato, hay and forage crops are showing up much better in Georgia than corn and cotton, according to the July crop report given out yesterday by the department of agriculture.

According to the report issued by Commissioner J. J. Conner there has been a material deterioration in the condition of cotton, due to weather conditions, as compared with the situation in June, nor is the corn crop showing up as previous reports indicated.

It is stated that acreage will be even less in cotton than was indicated by the June report, because replanting was not carried on to the extent expected, nor was there as much late planting as the outlook indicated.

The crop report of the department is based upon approximately 800 individual reports covering every county in the state, and is in part, as follows:

Condition and prospect of cotton crop compared to same date last year:

Northern section, per cent	67
Middle section, per cent	63
Southern section, per cent	62
Average for state, per cent	64

Condition and prospect of corn crop as compared to same date last year:

Northern section, per cent	74
Middle section, per cent	69

Condition and prospect of potato crop as compared to same date last year:

Northern section, per cent	84
Middle section, per cent	75
Southern section, per cent	86½

Condition and prospect of hay and other forage crops compared to same date last year:

Northern section, per cent	85
Middle section, per cent	87
Southern section, per cent	87

DEMOCRATS WILL HAVE WALKOVER, SAYS VARDAMAN

"There will be no presidential race, merely a walk-over," said Senator-elect James K. Vardaman, of Mississippi, to friends here yesterday during the course of a short stop between trains. Senator Vardaman has recently returned from Baltimore, where he was one of the picturesque and commanding figures of the democratic convention which nominated Governor Woodrow Wilson.

The former governor and soon-to-be senator was most optimistic to all to whom he talked. He expressed himself as perfectly pleased with the choice of a nominee and said the whole country would be pleased when on November 4 the returns showed that a governor had been promoted to the presidency.

Senator Vardaman left in the afternoon for Eatonton, Ga., where he delivered an address last night under the auspices of the Alkahest Lyceum Bureau.

CAPT. STEUNENBERG DEPARTS; THERE WAS NO MOURNING

After a period of enforced residence in Atlanta, where he was stationed in command of a company of the Seventeenth infantry, Fort McPherson, Captain George Steunenberg, U. S. A., has been transferred to climes that he frankly admitted will be more happy in their mode of living. He has already left for the west, where he will be attached to the Twenty-fifth infantry, Fort Lawton, Seattle, a negro regiment best known for its part in the Brownsville affair.

During his stay in the darkest south the captain improved the leisure hours for which Atlanta furnished no decent amusement by an exploration of the jungles about the city. His cosmopolitan view, as expressed in letters to his "podunk" back in Boise, Idaho, proved of real interest to Miss Atlanta.

Among other things he found two men with but a single leg in a bank where he went to transact business, and where he was kept waiting an unconsciousable time. He walked along streets that were merely cow-paths and were not named or numbered and he saw others going about their business not in a walk, but in a shamble. Everybody was sleepy, he said, and Atlanta was only an overgrown village.

His criticism provided quite a bit of fun to all who read it, and Captain Steunenberg, apart from being brother of the Idaho governor, for whose assassination Haywood and others were tried, became really well known and was pointed out among other objects of interest at the fort. It would be too much to say that his transfer is a matter of regret here.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT CHAMBER DINNER

The first day's mail since invitations to the chamber of commerce dinner on July 18 in Taft hall were sent out brought to Secretary Walter G. Cooper 110 acceptances up to 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

This is an unusually large number and indications are that the dinner, the first of a series, will be attended by practically the entire body of Atlanta's representative men. After the dinner is enjoyed there will be open discussion of important topics, of which the report of the chamber building committee on the collections for the new chamber of commerce building and the plans for remodeling will be the most important. The Lakewood exposition and the bureau of municipal research will also be discussed.

CAROLINA LAWYERS FOR INCREASE IN JUDICIARY

Morehead City, N. C., July 5.—By practically unanimous vote the North Carolina Bar Association, in session here, today adopted the section of the report of the special committee in reference to increasing the number of judges. The association will present to the legislature a bill which provides for three judicial circuits and the judges are increased to twenty-four as against sixteen heretofore. Each circuit is to have eight districts as against sixteen now. Judges are to rotate only in their own circuits.

The association adopted also the section of the report which practically remodels the statute laws providing for the drawing of juries.

THREE BIG FAMILIES PLANNING REUNION

Three families are planning for a big joint reunion at Grant park Wednesday, July 24.

Those who will participate are the members of the Manning, Oslin and Harp families, and Mrs. Charles C. Carpenter, secretary of the reunion organization, is sending out cordial invitations to every relative of the three branches to attend. An equally cordial invitation is contained in the press notices of the reunion.

The 1912 gathering will be the fifth big reunion of the three families.

Masons Meet.

Lyerly, Ga., July 4.—(Special.)—Lyerly will be the mecca next week for the Masons of Chattooga county, when they gather for a two days' meet, the occasion being the annual convention of the order of this county. Among the distinguished Masons who are on the program and who are expected to be present are Hon. George M. Napier, of Monroe, grand master of Georgia Masons; Past Grand Master Max Meyerhardt, of Rome; Joan C. Printup, of Rome, and many other prominent members of the order from Georgia and Alabama. The welcome address will be delivered by the chaplain of the Lyerly lodge, to which Hon. John W. Bale, worshipful master of the Lafayette lodge, will respond. In the afternoon the third degree will be conferred by a team from Cherokee lodge, of Rome. The Odd Fellows will join the Masons in a basket dinner on Thursday, and there will be a number of prominent Odd Fellows present, some of whom will deliver addresses. E. A. Harrison, noble grand of Lyerly lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, has extended a cordial invitation to all Odd Fellows to be in attendance on that day.

Dies at Age of 92.

Lyerly, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—In the death of Mrs. Lucindia Hogue, which occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Crisp, in South Trion, a few days ago, Chattoga county lost one of its oldest citizens. She was ninety-two years of age. She is survived by thirteen children, six girls and seven boys.

DR. JOHN E. WHITE TO PREACH SPECIAL SERIES

"A Month in Babylon" is the title of a series of sermons which Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, will deliver to his congregation during the month of July.

He has outlined the series as follows:

"Four weeks; Four Acts; Four Actors."

"Act 1—Sunday evening, July 7; theme, 'Morals and Manhood.'

"Act 3—Sunday evening, July 21; theme, 'The Lion Tamer.'

"Act 4—Sunday evening, July 28; theme, 'The Wonderful Window.'"

Mrs. Frank M. Pearson will sing at the services, and a cordial invitation to attend is extended to the public.

The service will begin at 8 o'clock and will last one hour.

RIVER VICTIMS FOUND.

Bodies of Woman and Child, Drowned on 4th, Recovered.

Waycross, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Early today the body of Mrs. T. E. Adkenson, who was one of the two victims of the Satilla river on the 4th, was found after a search of several hours. The remains were taken to Broxton tonight for burial. The funeral of the Bunting boy takes place here tomorrow. Mack Browne, who had such a close call, is recovering.

The drowning of Mrs. Adkenson and the little boy yesterday makes eight lives claimed by the Satilla in seven years.

CONGRESS WILL ADJOURN BY END OF THIS MONTH

Washington, July 5.—Heat and reaction from the recent national conventions have combined to wear down the nerves of the members of the house and that branch of congress today adjourned after a half hour's ineffective work.

"We will get through before the end of the month," said Representative Sherley, of Kentucky, today. The fact that the senate has failed to act upon nine of the appropriation bills, the pending impeachment proceedings against Judge Archbald and the Stanley steel trust investigation report did not cause Mr. Sherley to change his view.

"Everybody is tired of congress," he said.

ALL-WINTER FOX HUNT NETS MANY FINE SKINS

Macon, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—T. R. in his famous hunt in the jungles of Africa has nothing on T. J. Roberts, of Anderson, S. C., who passed through Macon this morning, following a winter's fox hunt in Florida and south Georgia. Mr. Roberts was in a two-horse wagon, to which was attached a dog kennel consisting of twenty "hound-dogs."

In the wagon were seventy-five fox skins, the fruits of the chase. These fox hunts are annual events with Mr. Roberts, but he remained out later than usual this year.

NEW PLAN PROPOSED TO NOMINATE PRESIDENT

Washington, July 5.—Representative Norris, of Nebraska, progressive republican, today introduced a bill which he declared would remedy the evils of presidential primaries.

The bill would provide for the election of delegates to the convention at the primaries and would permit voters to express a first and second choice for presidential candidates.

CITY NEWS

Bible Class to Meet.—The Bible lecture class of the First Methodist church will meet Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock in the main auditorium of the church, at the junction of Peachtree and Ivy streets. Visitors and strangers will be especially welcomed.

D. C. Cole on Vacation.—D. C. Cole, Atlanta's assistant postmaster, is now off on his vacation and is passing his time touring through the New England states. Before leaving Atlanta a few days ago Assistant Postmaster Cole shipped his automobile to Boston whither he later went by rail. After viewing the Hub and showing the postmaster there how to handle a postoffice in improved Cracker style, Mr. Cole will spend his time motoring through the New England states. He expects to be away from Atlanta for a month, maybe six weeks.

General Wotherspoon in Washington. Major General W. M. Wotherspoon, commanding the Department of the Gulf, is in Washington for a few days on official business. During his absence the parking line officer assumes command, Colonel Van Orsdale holding this position as commander of the Seventeenth infantry. President Taft recently confirmed the nomination of General Wotherspoon by the secretary of war to be a major general. This is his first visit to the national capital since that time.

Lynch Goes Away for Health.—John T. Lynch, son of the late Jerry Lynch, will leave the city in a few days for an extended tour of the east and Canada. Mr. Lynch's health has not been at all satisfactory for some time past and he goes away for a complete rest from business. Later in the summer or in the early fall, Mr. Lynch, returning home, will take in the markets of the eastern cities.

Organize "Holy Name Society."—All boys over 12 years old of the Church of the Immaculate Conception parish will meet Sunday morning after the 9:30 o'clock mass in the Sunday school rooms to organize a branch of the "Holy Name society." All are cordially invited.

Dr. Hanscom to Preach.—Dr. George Loring Hanscom will preach at the Sunday morning service of the Central Congregational church, the topic for his discourse being "Accomplishing the Impossible." Dr. Hanscom, although a resident of Atlanta for only a short time, has become well known as an impressive pulpit orator, a deep thinker, an earnest and convincing preacher, and the attendance at the services of his church are constantly increasing.

Unique Musical Service.—An innovation in musical services is promised for Sunday evening at the Central Congregational church, corner Ellis street and Carnegie way. "The Story of the Hymns" is the title announced. The pastor, Dr. George Loring Hanscom, will give brief sketches of authors of and inspirations for various beautiful and popular hymns. As the history of each hymn is given, the words and music will be thrown upon the screen by a powerful stereotpic n and the choir and congregation will join in singing, accompanied by organ and piano.

HOTEL CLERK IS SHOT BY WIFE

"He Came Home Late and I Investigated," Is Her Only Statement.

Dallas, Texas, July 5.—W. A. Laduque, clerk at a local hotel, was shot and fatally wounded by his wife here today. Witnesses say Laduque was talking over a telephone when his wife came up behind him. She called him, and, as he turned around, she drew a revolver and fired five shots, four of which took effect. He died soon after the shooting.

Mrs. Laduque was arrested. She refused to talk. She was formerly Miss Minnie Shilling, of Paris, Texas, and was known as a sister of the well-known jockey of that name. She had separated from her first husband.

Mrs. Laduque was later released on $5,000 bond. After her arrest she sent a telegram to Laduque's mother, at Williamette, Ill., stating:

"I have shot Will. Come at once."

The police assert that the woman cut the telephone wires at her boarding house before starting for the hotel where he was employed.

"He came home late last night," she declared, "and I investigated. I have nothing to say now, but will do my talking later."

The Western Union has purchased 10,000 Underwood Typewriters.

SOUTHERN EMPLOYEES ARE GIVEN SALARY INCREASE

Knoxville, Tenn., July 5.—The second arbitration award to be handed down by a federal judge is announceed by Judge Walter C. Pritchard, in settlement of contentions between the Southern railway and certain of its employees.

The decision gives an increase of $3 per month each to foremen of section yard, extra gangs, bridge carpenters, concrete and painter crews. These employers asked for $4 per month increase, but the railway's contention of only $3 increase was sustained.

An increase of $7.50 per month each is allowed assistant foremen, bridge and tunnel laborers, men working in tunnels, shaft workmen, bridgemen, carpenters, masons, painters and pile-driver engineers. This allows the scale asked for by these men, and to which the railway objected, holding a $5 increase was sufficient.

The decisions affect several thousand employees, and by previous arrangement, become effective without appeal, dating from May 1, 1912, to June 30, 1913.

The arbiters were J. S. B. Thompson, of Atlanta, for the Southern railway, and T. H. Terry, of Walnut Grove, N. C., for the employees. These two selected Judge Pritchard as the umpire. The arbiters were unable to agre, and the decision was left to Judge Pritchard, who settled the contentions as stated.

Safety of principal and 4 per cent interest is assured to Savings Depositors by the TRUST COMPANY OF GEORGIA.

MONEY TRUST INQUIRY MAY BE POSTPONED

Washington, July 5.—Pursuit of the "money trust" will probably virtually be abandoned until after the elections in November as the result of a conference today of the subcommittee of the house banking and currency committee. While it was said no definite decision had been reached, it was discovered that the majority of the members believed that a continuance of the inquiry through the summer would be unwise.

It was held that to inject such an important investigation into national politics not only might have serious consequences, but that, being double-edged, the damage might be done to both parties in the campaign. It also was believed that at a time when business was at a standstill awaiting the outcome of the political year the investigation might have a most disturbing effect.

The subcommittee will meet within the next few days to reach a formal agreement on the program.

AMENDMENT PROPOSED FOR ANTI-TRUST LAW

Washington, July 5.—Representative Hull, of Tennessee, democrat, today introduced a bill designed to amend the Sherman anti-trust law so that a penalty of 50 per cent of an offending corporation's daily net earnings would be imposed as a fine upon the conviction of any such corporation.

LIP READING IS CENSURED AND SIGN SYSTEM PRAISED

The system of lip reading being taught in the Cave Springs school for the deaf was censured by the board of visitors of the institution in the report filed recently with the state school commissioner.

Criticising the art of lip reading and declaring that it requires too much time in instruction, is too difficult to master, cannot be learned perfectly and cannot be used with success in practical endeavor, the visiting board advocated the use of sign reading in the Cave Springs institution.

The visiting board also alleges in its report that the attendance upon the Cave Springs school does not indicate that the institution is meeting even reasonably well the needs of all deaf children in the state and recommended that it be made one of the duties of the state school commissioner to require county superintendents to report to the principal of the school for the deaf addresses of all children who are totally deaf, so that they may be urged upon to attend the institution.

Addresses of Deaf Wanted.

A portion of the report follows:

"The attendance this year upon the Cave Springs school for the deaf does not indicate that the school is meeting even reasonably well the needs of all the children of the state who are totally deaf. We recommend that it be made one of the duties of the state school commissioner to require county school superintendents to secure the names and addresses of all deaf children in the state and report all these to the principal of the Cave Springs school. This in order to put the school in touch with all deaf children and enable the principal to urge upon the people the necessity for instruction and the advantages to be had, and to furnish them blanks for application for admission in the school.

"The school room work inspected was conducted largely by oral methods from the kindergarten style for the youngest up to ordinary grammar school grades. The process is necessarily tedious and painful and testing the almots infinite patience of both teacher and pupil, when words, ideas and language must be constructed and established by uttered sounds without the aid of hearing. The constant iteration, reiteration, failure, trial and slow improvement cannot but call to mind the process of wearing away a stone by constant dripping of water.

Manual Methods Better.

"Can we exact or expect utterance from the child who must give it only by imitation? When, then, is any hearing, or any memory of hearing, or of speech in children who have lost their hearing early in life, it may be possible to use oral methods with surprising and practical results. Without such conditions the work has many hopeless features. It seems to the board of visitors that very much time is spent in the school upon instruction by oral methods that could more profitably be used in the education and development of the mind and powers of the pupils by using the hand in sign and spelling upon fingers—manual methods. Here the manual department has been so altogether subordinated to the oral department that the board was impressed with the serious mistake now being allowed at the school. The proposition seems to be whether a child shall spend a majority of its school years in acquiring artificial speech, but imperfectly, without a correct development of mind and instruction in branches that must be understood, or whether the school effort shall be to develop and instruct the mind, quicken the eye and give thoroughness in necessary branches of study without any effort at speech. The practicability of school room speech and lip reading was not demonstrated at all by the meager results shown in the imperfectly spoken words. On the playgrounds and among the pupils when alone there were no chatterboxes evident, but signs and finger spelling seemed entirely customary.

"The board's recommendation is that as soon as it becomes evident that a child shows no aptitude for speech that it be turned over promptly to the manual department and not be given instruction only in lip reading.

Deaf Convention Held.

The second annual convention of the deaf people of Georgia was held Friday in the Y. M. C. A. building, and the meeting in the morning criticized the Cave Springs school for the method of lip reading instruction and advocated the use of the sign language.

Speeches were delivered at the convention by W. R. Jones, of Lithonia; Robert Lawrence, of Athens; Professor W. F. Jones and I. H. Marchman, the latter of whom suggested that the Cave Springs school be removed to Macon, where better advantages were to be had. All speeches were made in the sign language, and the spectacle of a deaf mute delivering a dramatic address upon the tips of his fingers, while his features bespoke the emotions his tongue failed to express, was a remarkable sight to the layman.

Savannah was selected as the 1913 convention place.

W. R. Jones, of Lithonia, was elected president, and I. E. Marchbanks, of Savannah, was elected vice president. The convention adjourned in the afternoon.

DECLAIMERS WIN ATHENS PRIZES

Eleven Districts Were Represented by Contesting Delegations.

Athens, Ga., July 6.—With the declamation contest today at noon in the chapel of the University of Georgia concluded the annual series of literary, musical and athletic competitions engaged in by the several winners who were chosen in the twelve congressional district contests several weeks ago.

There have been eleven districts in all represented in one or the other or all of the contests and the events have drawn delegations from every section of the state.

In the recitation contest the following is the list of entrants, with the district and town from which they came and the subject of the recitation employed—the three winners (or first, second and third prize) being given first in the list:

The Music Contest.

Last night in the chapel the contest for the $300 scholarship in Brenau conservatory was held with the following entrants, the three indicated taking first, second and third prize, respectively:

Miss Olivia Dumas, of Locust Gove, sixth district.

Miss May Meadows, of Swainsboro, first district.

Miss Ollie Bradley, of Carrollton, fourth district.

Miss Frances Rogers, of Lithonia, fifth district.

Miss Sue Wilburn, of Monticello, eighth district.

Miss Lois Howell, of Warrenton, tenth district.

Pretty group pictures were made of the contestants in both the recitation event and the musical contest.

Oral Spelling Contest.

Last night after the musical program had been rendered the oral spelling contest occurred—the best spellers in twelve districts of the state being pitted against each other. Twelve contestants spelled till it seemed that a decision for the winner could not be secured. Finally all were spelled down except the following three: Lillie Gun, of Warfenton; Currie Walters, of Toccoa, and Pierce Holmes, of Vidalia. This contest did not count in points for the district trophy, but prizes will be awarded the three who stood longest.

Winners Announced.

The winners in the literary contests between the several districts of the state's high school organization were announced this afternoon at the close of the declamation contest for the boys, in which nine districts contested. The ninth district wins the state cup for this year with 12 points, Toccoa High school capturing all of the points for its entire district. The sixth came second with 11 points, the third was third with 7 points. In this award the declamation, recitation, essays, music and spelling were counted.

The winners in the boys' oratory contest were: James Ray, of Gordon institute, first; Sam Kassawitz, of Fitzgerald, second, and Robert Perry, of Madison, third.

The essay winners were: Girls, Clara Barrett, of Toccoa, first; Maud Windham, of Reynolds, second, and Alva Lowery, third.

Boys: Clyde Ramsey, of Toccoa, first; Deryl Hart, of Union Point, second; Thomas Morgan, of Ashburn, third.

The winners in the spelling contest were: Pierce Holmes, of Vidalia, first; Lucy Lee, of Macon, second; Brownie Perry, of Covington, third.

The association re-elected Professor J. S. Stewart, president; Professor O. R. Horton, of the G. M. C., vice president of the district presidents' executive committee Professor Stewart was made editor-in-chief of the proposed "Georgia High School Quarterly" with the district presidents as associates.

POSTAL SAVINGS AT TWO STATIONS

During the fiscal year just ended, the Atlanta postoffice has added three letter carriers to the regular force, and twelve more clerks in the clerical department.

The force of regular carriers is now 114 men, with eighteen substitute carriers, the substitutes being available for either extra work or to fill a vacancy that may be occasioned by sickness, suspension or absence, for any cause, of a regular member of the force. On the office pay rool outside the carriers are 159 names, embracing the entire clerical force of the office, none of these being officers of the local department. In addition to these two separate and distinct features, the office carries at all times seven rural free delivery men and twenty-four special delivery carriers.

During the year the work at the office has increased materially because of new territory being taken in and other improvements made. The addition of the Battle Hillsection made imperative additional carriers, as well as an increase of help in other branches.

"Atlanta now has twenty-one numbered sub-stations and seven branch carrier stations," said Superintendent of Mails Hart. "At the sub-stations stamps and other supplies may be purchased, and at these stations every convenience is afforded the users of the mail supplied at the main postoffice. From the seven branch carrier stations, to which mail for those sections are carried in bulk, the carriers go out to the patrons the same as the big force moves out from the main office.

"Postmaster McKee and myself are now sanguine that an experiment with the automobile will be made in Atlanta within a short time. Washington and other cities have found the experiment decidedly satisfactory, as the use of machines enables the quicker and a more rapid gathering in of the mails from the boxes and sub-stations."

"And I have just received," said Postmaster McKee, "instructions from the postal savings commission at Washington to open on August 1 postal savings banks at station C, Peachtree and Tenth streets, and station A, in West End, at Lee and Gordon streets."

SHOWED GRAY UNIFORM AND SWORD TO NIECES

Carrying his confederate uniform of gray in a dress suitcase, and his old war-time sword strapped alongside his umbrella, Captain W. H. H. Phelps, well-known Atlanta broker, yesterday came back from a tour of northern cities extending over ten days.

Captain Phelps made his first stop in Baltimore, and remained there until the democratic convention opened. Then he went to Philadelphia, whence he went to New York, returning by water to Norfolk, and then by rail to Richmond, and over the Seaboard home.

"I have in Baltimore," said Captain Phelps, "several nieves I had never seen, to say nothing of other relatives. Since they had never seen my gray uniform or this sword I carried during the war, I decided to take them along with me."

Captain Phelps' uniform shows the rank of captain in the confederate army. When the war broke out, Captain Phelps lived in Columbus, and it was from that city he went to the front along with Walter Henderson, of The Constitution. After serving nearly through the war, Captain Phelps was captured and taken to a northern prison. When the war was over he refused to take the oath of allegiance, and for many months remained in prison. Finally the government withdrew the guards and gave him his liberty. Shortly after the close of the war he located in Atlanta.

BANK CLEARINGS GAIN 13 PER CENT

Banks, Buildings and Postoffice Prove Atlanta's Growth.

A 13 per cent increase in bank clearing is shown for the first six months of 1912 over the period of last year—but there is no hoodoo behind that particular number. If any superstition attaches to it at all it indicates bad luck the other way 'round, that Atlanta's "got the goat" of New Orleans, Birmingham and Memphis and other towns where the clearings do not register the same high pressure of business.

The figures were given out Friday by the Atlanta Clearing House Association, and indicate the business through June 30, as follows:

Increase	$ 40,789,408.18

While the banks have been doing business they have stimulated building improvements throughout the city, and the permits show a substantial increase this year. Although the first six months of 1912 were the wettest ever known in the history of the city work continued steadily, and had it not been for the rains the increase would have been more than doubled. The figures are:

January to July, 1912	$3,624,840
Increase this year	$ 179,227

Another reliable gauge of business is postoffice receipts, in which Atlanta has always stood among the forefront of southern cities. As published in The Constitution some days ago there has been the usual solid increase this fiscal year, which ended June 30, the increase being practically 10 per cent, or $104,250.45.

Effective Sunday, July 7th, Southern Railway train No. 6 will leave Atlanta for Macon, Ga., at 12:20 noon, arrive Macon 2:55 p. m. Returning, No. 5 will leave Macon 1:25 p. m., arrive Atlanta 4:00 p. m.

EUGENE PRINCE TO BE GIVEN CITIZENSHIP

Washington, July 5.—Eugene Prince, "the man without a country," will become a citizen of the United States when the president signs the resolution the senate passed today.

Mr. Prince is the son of John Henry Prince. Both father and son were born in Russia, although the grandfather was an American, whose family, Senator Lodge assured the senate, had lived in Massachusetts since 1645.

The law protected the father, but not the son, in his rights of citizenship. He was neither an American citizen nor a subject of the czar and not even in a position to be naturalized.

The house passed a joint resolution unconditionally admitting his "to the character and privileges of American citizenship" and the senate today concurred.

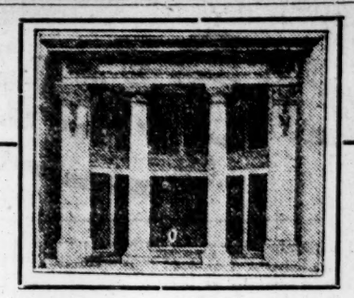

WILL PLOW TEN-ACRE LOT TO RECOVER STOLEN GEMS

Hartford, Conn., July 5.—In quest of $6,000 worth of stolen treasure supposed to have been buried by William Castle Haven, a negro thief, the police will plow up the whole surface of a 10-acre lot to a depth of 3 feet. The jewelry was stolen from the home of Dr. E. T. Smith.

Castle Haven is now serving a ten-year sentence at Charlestown, Mass. He confessed he robbed the Smith home and buried the gems in the lot.

CHEWED A TORPEDO AND FACE WAS TORN AWAY

Appleton, Wis., July 5.—Andrew Hoffman, who ate a torpedo yesterday, mistaking it for candy, died today. He had some caramels and torepdoes, both wrapped in red and white paper, in the same pocket. He chewed a torpedo. His face was literally blown away.

HUSBAND COMES HOME TO FIND WIFE AND CHILDREN DROWNED

Rye, N. Y., July 5.—Mrs. Allen Ross and her two children, a boy of 12 and a girl of 10 years, were drowned in Long Island Sound, near their home here, early last evening. Mrs. Ross lost her life in a vain attempt to save the lives of her children. Returning home late at night, after spending the day on an automobile trip, Mr. Ross found the bodies of his wife and children on the beach, where they had been left by the receding tide. They were clasped in one another's arms.

According to a third child, who had been a member of the party, the children were celebrating the Fourth on the rocks at the water's edge, when the little girl dropped a piece of punk over the bluff. Her brother clambered down with her to help retrieve it, but both slipped and fell in the deep water. Mrs. Ross, seeing them disappear, plunged in after them fully dressed, although she was unable to swim. Mother and children went down together, no one being near to attempt a rescue.

W. J. BRYAN IS BURNED IN EFFIGY BY CLARK SUPPORTER

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 5.—(Special.)—W. J. Bryan was burned in effigy on Wednesday night at Colonial Beach, a tidewater summer resort near Washington, on the Potomac river, and the large number of visitors who journeyed to the resort to spend the Fourth of July were very much exercised over the incident, some deeply incensed at this indignity, to the former democratic leader.

A stuffed figure bearing the placard "William Jennings Bryan," was hung from a tall mast near the beach and in full view of the summer resort colony. Several bullets were fired at the swaying figure, which was then lowered to the ground, covered with kerosene oil and set on fire.

George H. Henault, an emotional Frenchman who keeps a small shop on Hawthorne avenue, was the author of the insult to Mr. Bryan. He was an ardent Champ Clark supporter and was incensed at what he regarded as Mr. Bryan's treachery to Clark at the national convention. Indignant citizens who had no sympathy with the indignity sought to be offered the commoner, cut the rope and threw the blazing effigy into the river. The next day it was washed up on the beach by the tide and the affair became the chief topic of conversation among the Fourth of July crowds.

Mr. McCall's House Party.

A season of gayety will be provided next week for a large company of the school girls and boys in the house party Mr. Howard H. McCall, Jr., gives at the hospitable summer home of his grandfather, Captain R. W. Tidwell, on Williams' Mill road.

Miss Cynthia Ellis of Griffin, Misses May Crichton, Nell Walker, Mary Stewart of Atlanta, and Catherine Reynolds of Birmingham; Messrs. Thomas Crenshaw, Jr., Rhodes Haverty, George Harrison, Lynn Brannen and Thomas Hancock will be Mr. McCall's guests for the week, and Miss Margaret Lowman of Birmingham, will spend several days with the house party, while all the host's friends will be assembled at some of the series of entertainments to be given in honor of the house party.

The home is a large, old-fashioned one, in a beautiful section of country adjoining Druid Hills, and a large swimming pool, 75x100 feet in area, and five or six feet deep, which is back of the house, will provide an important feature of the week's fun.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. McCall will entertain the house party informally after a swimming party in the afternoon.

Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. George S. Obear, Jr., will entertain at dinner.

Wednesday evening Miss Nell Walker will give a dancing party at her home in Druid Hills.

Thursday night Mr. John Stewart and Miss Mary Stewart will entertain.

Friday evening Miss Lillian Tidwell and Mr. Frank Tidwell will entertain the Druid Hills Club at a dance.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. McCall will give a dance.

Several automobiles have been placed at the disposal of the house party, and motor trips will be a daytime pleasure.

Rehearsal Party.

Mr. and Mrs. John Orme Davies entertained at buffet supper last night after the rehearsal for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Fanille Davies, and Mr. J. L. Baird, which takes place this afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. Mark's.

The guests included the bridal party and out-of-town guests as follows: Mrs. Bennett Sanders of Newnan, Miss Fay Watterson of Jonesboro, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Price of Athens, Miss Kate Schillinger, maid of honor; Mr. Sam Johnston, best man; Mr. Ben Frank, Mr. Banks Talmadge, Mr. Phillips and Mr. Cogburn, ushers, and a few intimate friends.

The house was artistically decorated with foliage plants, nasturtiums and daisies, and in the dining room a prettily appointed confection table had its centerpiece of nasturtiums.

Mrs. Davies was gowned in blue silk. Miss Davies wore white embroidered marquisette, Miss Watterson, assisting in entertaining, wore heliotrope chiffon.

To Miss de Graffenreid.

Mrs. Robert Adger Smythe entertained at 5 o'clock tea at the Piedmont Driving Club yesterday in compliment to Miss Claire de Graffenreid of Washington, the guest of Mrs. W. L. Peel. There were twelve guests.

Miss Lipscomb's Tea.

The prettiest gathering of young girls, picturesque in the quaint lingerie gowns and picture hats which are the quaint fashion, were the guests of Miss Virginia Lipscomb at tea at the Georgian Terrace yesterday. Miss Yerger of Jacksonville, Fla., who is visiting Miss Adgate Ellis, was guest of honor, and forty guests were invited to meet her.

Tea was served in the lounging room, which is cool and inviting with palms, and Miss Lipscomb was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Jr., and Mrs. George M. Brown.

Engagement of Heiress.

Great Neck, N. Y., July 5.—Announcement is made here of the engagement of Miss Lilia B. Gilbert, of New York, to Mr. Howard Price Renshaw, of Troy, N. Y. Miss Gilbert is a noted beauty and heiress to the $15,000,000 estate left by her father, the late H. Bramhall Gilbert, of New York. Mr. Renshaw is a graduate of the Troy Polytechnic institute and wealthy.

To Miss Hinton.

Mrs. Jesse M. Wood entertained at tea yesterday afternoon, the occasion an enjoyable one in compliment to her guest, Miss Albert Hinton, of Miami, Fla.

Daisies and ferns were used in attractive decoration and yellow and white were the colors obtaining in pretty detail.

The table in the dining room had as its centerpiece a bowl of iced tea embedded in daisies, and silver candlesticks around it had yellow shades.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. T. T. Stevens, Mrs. J. C. Henderson, Mrs. G. T. Bradley and Misses Edna Walraven, Grace Jolly and Alline Pullen.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Wood will give a dinner party at the East Lake Country Club for Miss Hinton.

Dinner Party.

Mr. Hilton Wimbish will entertain at the dinner dance at the Driving Club tonight in compliment to Miss Adgate Ellis' guest, Miss Yerger, of Jackson, and Miss Ferol Humphries' guest, Miss Boswell, of Chase City, Va.

The Fourth in Lucerne.

An interesting celebration of the Fourth of July was a symphony conhonor of the American minister to cert in the Kursaal at Lucerne in Switzerland and Mrs. Henry S. Boutell, on Wednesday, July 3.

The famous orchestra of sixty musicians, under the direction of Louis Lambard, of New York, and Trevano Castle, presented a program made up exclusively of American compositions, as follows:

"The Culprit Fay"—Henry Hadley.

"Praeludium de l'op. 63"—Arthur Foote.

(a) "In a Haunted Forest," (b) "Summer Idyll," (c) "In October" de l'opus 42—Edward A. MacDowell.

STATE MILITIAMEN MEET IN ANNISTON

Anniston, Ala., July 5.—Everything is in readiness for the arrival of the southern states' militiamen tomorrow at Camp Pettus for the summer maneuvers. Colonel J. T. Van Orsdale, of the Seventeenth infantry, U. S. A., stationed at Fort McPherson, has arrived with his staff and is in command of the camp during the maneuvers.

Provost guard has been organized and a mounted patrol was put in commission tonight for the first time with orders to report to police headquarters every half-hour.

In addition to the state troops of Alabama, North and South Carolina and Tennessee, which come here for the first period of two weeks of the maneuvers, the bands of the Seventeenth infantry from Fort McPherson and the Eleventh cavalry from Fort Oglethorpe and several detachments of regular soldiers will arrive.

The Georgia, Florida and Kentucky troops will be here for the second period, beginning July 15. Reduced rates on the railroads are attracting hundreds of visitors to the city to witness the maneuvers.

SHE HEADS WOMEN'S CLUBS

MRS. PERCY V. PENNYBACKER.

She was elected president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which has been in session at San Francisco. Mrs. Pennybacker's home is in Austin, Texas.

ATLANTA WOMAN HONORED BY LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

Mrs. Percival Snead, principal of the Carnegie Library school of Atlanta, was elected a member of the board of executive council of the American Library Association, holding in Ottawa, Canada, last week. Mrs. Snear was elected a member of the board for a term of five years, the board composed of the limited number of five, the other four being men.

Mrs. Snead and Miss Katherine Wooten, librarian of the Carnegie library of Atlanta, were among the small delegation from the south present at the convention, an interesting fact being that five other delegates at the convention were graduates of the Carnegie Library school of Atlanta.

Mrs. Snead is one of the most gifted and intellectual among Atlanta's cultured and prominently social women, and the recognition given her ability by the National Library Association, an organization so forcibly representing mental attainment, is most gratifying to her southern friends.

HIGH COST OF LIVING HAS NOT REDUCED DIAMOND DEMAND

New York, July 5.—Despite the high cost of living the American public has not checked at all its demand for diamonds, pearls and other precious stones. During the year ending June 30, the importations of these gems through the port of New York reached a total of $39,500,000. This is in addition to ten million dollars worth of uncut stones, which are separately listed by the appraisers' agents. The total lacks only a few figures of constituting a new record.

The heavy importations of rough diamonds during the fiscal year reflect a growth in the diamond cutting industry in this country where some of the finest stones are at present being cut. There is a duty of ten per cent on cut diamonds, while the rough product is allowed free entry.

A jeweler's review of the year shows that there has been only one official advance of five per cent in the price of diamonds, but there have been other indirect advances in that time.

WADLEY WOULD FINANCE COTTON

Georgia Man Has Plan to Save Cracker Farmers Vast Amount of Coin.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 5.—(Special.)—George Dole Wadley, of Bolingbroke, Ga., who built the first section of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad and a large part of the Mexican National railroad, has turned his attention from railroad construction to cotton and is the author of a daring scheme to finance the cotton crop and enable the farmers of the south to secure a flat price of 15 cents per pound for the staple.

Mr. Wadley was in Washington today conferring with members of congress from the cotton producing states, and with Dr. B. T. Galloway, of the bureau of plant industry, explaining his idea. He said:

"Our scheme looks to giving the farmers of the south 15 cents per pound for their cotton. We will advance 11 cents per pound when the cotton is delivered, and the additional 4 cents per pound when it is bought by the mills."

Asked about the capitalization of his company and how they proposed to take care of overproduction, he said it would not take such a vast amount of money to finance the scheme, and there was never any overproduction of cotton.

"There remained in the warehouses on September 1 of last year, the end of the old crop year, about 750,000 bales of cotton, enough to last the mills two weeks. In what other business are men willing to carry only a two weeks' supply? Our scheme is different from the Brazil valorization scheme, the grain farmers' holding company and everything of the kind heretofore tried. It is entirely new and I believe feasible."

Mr. Wadley said a meeting would be held in Georgia on July 12 to discuss the cotton holding movement.

GIRL OF FIFTEEN SWIMS THE HUDSON AT YONKERS

Yonkers, N. Y., July 5.—To a girl of 15 years, Miss Marjorie Shaughnessy, of this city, belongs the honor of having been the first person to swim the Hudson river this year. The feat is a most difficult one even for an expert man swimmer and is generally successfully accomplished only four or five times during a season.

Auto Runs Away.

Columbus, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—While driving her automobile along the business section of Broad street today, Mrs. Lottie Hatcher Estes lost control of the machine, which dashed onto the sidewalk, striking Clarence Gray, knocking him down, breaking his nose and a rib and inflicting other minor injuries. The machine was stopped when it struck an iron post. Mrs. Estes fainted, but was soon revived. She was not hurt.

STATE RESTS IN THAW HEARING

Third Alienist Testifies That Defendant Is Paranoia Victim.

White Plains, N. Y., July 5.—At the conclusion of today's session the state practically rested its case in the hearing to obtain the release of Harry K. Thaw from the Matteawan hospital.

Dr. Carlos F. McDonald, the third of the alienists to assert that Thaw is still suffering from paranoia, finished his testimony this afternoon after being put through two days of cross-examination by Clarence J. Shearn, Thaw's counsel. Throughout the lengthy inquisition the alienist insisted that the slayer of Stanford White is possessed of insane delusions and should be kept in an asylum.

Mr. Shearn intends to put on the stand alienists favorable to Thaw as the next step in the hearing. It is believed Mr. Shearn will call also some forty other witnesses, all of whom are expected to give evidence which will tend to prove that Thaw is sane, and that the delusions he is supposed to have are based upon actual facts.

The hearing was adjourned until Monday.

SO. CAROLINA BANKERS HAVE ANNUAL MEETING

Charleston, S. C., July 5.—With many delegates present the annual convention of the South Carolina Bankers' Association was opened today at the Isle of Palms. Addresses by Alfred Murrell and George E. Allen, of New York, and other prominent bankers are among the features. President Wilson G. Harvey, of Charleston, read his annual report and review today. Secretary L. C. Holleman, mayor of Anderson, also delivered his report.

Annual Encampment.

Charleston, S. C., July 5.—Several companies of the Third regiment of infantry, national guard of South Carolina, left this morning for Anniston, Ala., where they will attend the annual encampment prescribed by the war department. The Charleston battalion is included in the contingent. The soldiers are traveling in a special train, which is provided with a cook's coach so that meals may be served without delay in the movement. Colonel Jules E. Cogswell, of Charleston, commands the Third regiment. The historic Sumter Guards and Washington Light infantry belong to the Charleston battalion.

TEDDY ASKED TO TELL EXPENSES

La Follette Charges "Trusts and Financial Giants" Furnished Money.

LaCrosse, Wis., July 5.—United States Senator La Follette, in a printed article today, asks Colonel Roosevelt for the second time to publish his expense account, or else "a candid statement of his reasons for thus spurning one of the basic principles of public morality and political decency." When La Follette made public a statement of his campaign receipts during the Ohio primary contest, he called on Roosevelt to do likewise. There has been no response.

La Follette says in part:

"Big business, with big money derived from unfair privileges, is ever in politics, and is ever ready to place its funds back of a likely winner, who is either subservient, in the sense that a chisel is subservient to the hand of the carpenter, or serviceable to the extent that he is 'harmless' in performance.

"Special privilege puts money into political campaigns by way of investment. From such investment it demands substantial rewards. It is to protect the public interest from rewards such as these, conceived in twilight and consummated in secret, that the public demands publicity of campaign contributions.

"Theodore Roosevelt entered the contest for the presidential nomination as a 'progressive.' He made a strenuous campaign for votes and a noisy scramble for southern delegates on the ground that he represented progressive doctrines. In this fight he had the backing of the steel trust and the harvester trust. Financial giants like Perkins, Hanna and Munsey contributed to his cause. His campaign was characterized by a riotous expenditure of money. Yet he has made no public accounting. He has not taken the American people into his confidence. He has ignored the progressive principle of publicity."

BISHOP JOHN C. KILGO WILL SPEAK ON SUNDAY

Bishop John C. Kilgo, of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, will speak to the Epworth eLaguers, who are now in convention here, twice next Sunday at St. Paul's church. He will preach the annual sermon in the morning at 11 o'clock and again at night. Among others who will make addresses during the sessions of the convention are Dr. Ed Cook, Dr. Jenkins and others.

A Chance Shot.

"Don't you think Mrs. Diggs' conversation is quite voluble?"

"No, indeed; I think it is very ladylike."

SUFFRAGE ELIMINATED FROM NATIONAL FEDERATION SESSION

San Francisco, July 5.—Equal suffrage was eliminated today as an issue in the General Federation of Women's Clubs and cannot come up for general discussion again until the next biennial meeting. A motion that the convention go on record in favor of suffrage was ruled out of order by the chair.

Mrs. Philip N. Moore, of St. Louis, retiring president, ruled that all motions must come before the convention from the committee on resolutions. She explained that the purpose of the federation was to educate women in all things looking to their betterment, and that the present sense of the committee was that the suffrage resolution would tend to make that work more difficult.

Mrs. Washburn, of Washington, protested against the decision of the chair. The ballot, she said, would be "a tool in the hands of women to shape legislation for their own help and their children's" by the weight it would carry with state legislatures.

At the height of the discussion Mrs. Mary Garrett Ray, president of the New York Equal Suffrage League, introduced a resolution to modify the procedure of electing officers. Despite protests her motion was ruled in order and adopted. It provides for simplified elections.

Mrs. Frederick Nathan, of New York, president of the National Consumers' League, sharply questioned the chair's right to recognize one motion and throw out the other.

The following resolutions were adopted by the convention:

That a vote of appreciation be extended to President Taft for his appointment of Miss Julia Lathrop to the head of the children's bureau.

That the federation unite with the government in erecting a monument at Panama in commemoration of the completion of the Panama canal.

Preservation of Mammoth cave, Kentucky.

Bills for the betterment of defective children.

Appointment of experts by the state educational boards to place sex hygiene in the curriculum of every normal school.

Indorsement of the plan to have women police in all of the larger cities in this country.

Declaring opposition to prison contract labor.

Indorsement of the study of Bible literature, and the placing of Bible study on the program of literary clubs.

Furtherance of high ideals in the drama and on the professional stage.

Call for federal aid for vocational training for boys and girls.

Demand that the president of the United States reorganize the department of agriculture, so that the pure food and drug acts be better enforced and "the law not be prostituted for special interests."

Indorsement of the "white slave" laws.

Protest against imposing any legal disability on woman that is not imposed on man.

Production of Borax.

The borax deposits of the United States are of great extent, and there seems to be a little danger of their exhaustion. In 1910 we produced, according to the United States geological survey, 42,357 tons of crude borax, valued at $1,201,842, while the value of the imports amounted to only $12,397—approximately 1 per cent of the domestic production.

"GOAT" INITIATION MAY BE TAKEN UP BY ELKS

Portland, Ore., July 5.—One of the important questions before the ritual committee of the grand lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, it was learned today, was the re-establishment of the "goat" as a part of the initiation ceremonies. "Riding the goat" was abolished last year at the grand lodge convention at Atlantic City on the grounds of its lack of dignity.

Some of the lodges in small cities and towns demand that it be re-established.

Although it is three days until the grand lodge assembles, it seems that Thomas B. Mills, of Superior, Wis., is almost certain of election as grand exalted ruler.

The Cause.

"Banks makes money, and yet he is in a very flaggin' sort of business."

"Then how can that be?"

MACON MINISTER MAY ANSWER TEXAS CALL

Macon, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Dr. B. B. Bailey, pastor of Tattnall Square Baptist church, has received a call to the First Baptist church of Texarkana, Texas, and he has gone there to preach Sunday before the congregation of that church.

Five years ago, while Dr. Bailey was pastor of a church at Shelbyville, Ky., he received a similar call, but did not accept. It is said now that he will give the matter serious consideration and may decide to leave Macon. His congregation here will regret to give him up.

RAIN RECORDS BADLY BROKEN

Excess Already Greater Than Seventeen Inches.

The Rainfall for the First Six Months of 1912 Heavier Than for the Entire Year of 1911 or for the Year of 1910.

Up to 8 o'clock Friday morning the rainfall for the first six months of 1912 had exceeded that of the entire year of 1910, or of the entire year of 1911, by seven inches or more, and it was still raining. Not only that, but July and August, considered the wettest months of the calendar, are still to come.

Since the first of the year Georgia has suffered one deluge after another. Father Neptune, it would seem, had determined to transfer the Pacific ocean, via the sky route, to a resting place in old Georgia.

The rain gods have given this state all kinds of precipitations. Sometimes it would be a shower, then again a hard rain, and every once and awhile there would come a torrent that would give promise of creating conditions that would make a job for a modern Noah.

These unusual weather conditions are brought about, it is said, by the fact that the storms and weather disturbances which usually are centered over the lake regions changed their playgrounds for the year, taking a southerly course over the vicinity of the gulf and in and around Texas, thus giving to Georgia unequalled rainfall.

Conditions Unparralleled.

Never has the local weather bureau experienced such weather conditions. The rains have not been confined to one or more communities, but have been widespread over the state. The showers would put in their appearance in certain sections as though operated on a scheduled system. For instance, while it rained furiously at St. Simons, Savannah probably would be enjoying fair weather and vice versa in other communities. Atlanta often has experienced heavy rains, while sections no further distant than Stone Mountain at the same time were sunny and with but little prospects for rain.

Crops Badly Damaged

Crops have been badly damaged, and agricultural conditions are deplorable as a result of the incessant rains. Cotton and vegetable growth have been hurt, and a great financial loss will result to the farmers. The forage crop, however, and the fruit industry have been benefited, and agriculturalists and growers of these products are reaping a boomper crop of hay, conr, wheat, rye, oats and fruit.

The cause of the heavy rainfall, as stated by Weather Forecaster Von Herrmann, is the transfer of the storms and weather disturbances from the lake region to a southerly coast, along the gulf and in the Texas vicinity.

Until the early part of 1912 these storms and disturbances had been confined to the great lakes, but in January they took a southerly course, resulting in the rainy condition throughout Georgia. Mr. Von Herrmann was at a loss to explain the cause of the transfer, and stated that it was a mystery government meteorologists now are trying to solve.

Very Little Warm Weather.

According to the weather forecaster, the rainy condition also is the cause of the exceptionally low temperature prevalent so far during the present summer season.

"Rarely has the temperature this summer exceeded 90 degrees," said Mr. Von Herrmann, "which is due largeely to the cloudy condition prevailing in the elements. This also will prolong the torrid season, and although July and August probably will be rainy and cool months, September will undoubtedly be the hottest of the year. Such has been the case heretofore in atmospheric conditions similar to those of this year."

Seventeen Inches Excess.

The excess of rainfall in Georgia during the past six months had reached 17 inches and 73-100 Friday morning at 8 o'clock. The total fall registered 44 inches, 17 inches above the normal, which would have been 27 inches. The nearest approach to this record was during the year 1881, when at this season the fall for six months was 38 inches.

The rainfall for June, 1912, was 11 inches and 21-100, the highest record ever attained by this usually dry month. June's excess reached 7 inches and 33-100.

Because of the absence of the usual torridness of the summer season, many are of the belief that an early winter will result, and the warm season will be short lived. Forecaster Von Herrmann quiets this presumption instantly with the prediction that summer will extend through September and that that month will be the hottest of the year. He explains this condition in that September being the dryest month of the year, the sun will for the first time beat down upon the earth unhampered by cloudy elements prevalent during the preceding summer months.

More Rain Expected.

Furthermore, Mr. Von Herrmann declares that from present prospects there will be little let up in the heavy rains, but that they will continue indefinitely. The wet weather condition in Georgia, he stated, depended entirely upon the action of the storms and disturbances now pursuing the southerly course. In case they remain as situated at present Georgia still will experience a heavy rainfall. If, however, the storms resume their natural course the rains in this state will abate and the natural fall will return.

FELDER DECIDES HE WILL NOT RUN

Financial Support Promised But Time Too Short

Although Urged by Friends to Get Into the Race at Once, He Declines Upon Ground That It Is Too Late—Thanks His Friends.

Attorney General Thomas S. Felder, upon his return from Macon yesterday, gave out a statement in which he said he would not make the race for governor because the time is too short in which to conduct a campaign.

Up to the time this announcement was made, many of Mr. Felder's friends still believed he would announce his candidacy. This belief was based on the fact that a commmttee of his friends in Bibb county had assured him of an ample campaign fund, and had received letters from various sections of the state promising support.

Mr. Felder, evidently, examined carefully into the situation, and found it was too late in the day to get into the pending contest. In spite of the urgency of his friends, therefore, he decided against making the race.

Hardwick, Too, Out of the Race.

Concurrently with Mr. Felder's announcement that he would not make the race, dispatches brought the statement from Washington that Congressman T. W. Hardwick, of the tenth, had reached a similar conclusion.

While the national democratic convention was on in Baltimore, Mr. Hardwick told friends he was contemplating seriously the matter of entering the race for governor, and that his announcement might be expected within a short time. Now, it is stated, Mr. Hardwick is preparing to make his announcement for re-election to congress in the tenth, where he is opposed by Judge Horace M. Holden, formerly of the supreme bench.

Indications are that the decisions of Mr. Felder and Mr. Hardwick will end the talk of further oppposition in the race for governor, and that there will be no other candidates except those already before the people—Hon. John M. Slaton, president of the senate, and Hon. Joe Hill Hall, of Bibb.

Mr. Felder's Statement.

Following is Mr. Felder's statement announcing his conclusion not to enter the race:

"To My Friends Throughout the State: For some months past I have been urged by friends in all sections of Georgia to make the race for governor, but had not seriously considered the matter from the simple fact that I was without the means to defray the expenses of a campaign. Within the past few days, however, ardent friends at home and in other parts of the state have guaranteed to raise all funds needed and are strongly insisting upon my entering the race. They are satisfied I can win.

"The matter has thus reached a point where I have not only to consider it, but to declare my decision.

"After mature consideration, I have decided not to become a candidate for the governorship. I reach this conclusion because I am convinced that it is now too late, within the limited time before me, to organize and conduct a campaign. I must recognize, too, that many of my friends are already committed to one or the other of the two candidates now in the field.

"I cannot bring myself to enter this race, the expense of which is to be borne by my friends, unless I felt confident of the result.

"I beg all my friends to believe that I am profoundly grateful for the generous interest they have shown in my political fortunes.

"T. S. FELDER."

THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

Matinee and night performances on Saturday conclude the week's success at the Forsyth, and there will be two capacity-testing gatherings to witness the events. Gus Edwards' Song Revue will leave a splendid impression, and a real welcome awaits the return of the combination. The week has recorded the professional debut of Jack Lamey, and all his friends are proud of the record he has made. A bill of sterling worth and quality will be the attraction for next week, and take the management's word for it, there has never been a better program offered anywhere at Forsyth prices. The star will be James Thornton, famous the world over as the king of star monologuists. Another feature will be Isabelle D'Armond and Frank Carter. Another feature of great importance will be the introduction of Edmund Hayes and Company, presenting the funniest act in vaudeville, "The Piano Mover." There will be four other features, including Rutan's Song Birds.

AUTOMATIC TELEPHONE AIDS CHICAGO GAMBLERS

Chicago, July 5.—The use of automatic telephones by handbook operators has greatly increased this form of gambling in Chicago, according to Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler. The difficulty of the police in locating these telephones through listening on the wires is the reason for it.

The fact that there is no operator, as in the case of other telephones, leaves the police to make practically a "blind" hunt for the gambling places. They say that the automatic numbers, which are indicated by the ticks, come so fast to one listening on the wires that it is impossible to count them.

For several weeks the places raided by the police have been found to be equipped nearly altogether with the automatic instruments. As a result, it is said, many new "books" have sprung up, and old gambling places have sought new quarters, which, as yet, have not been located.

JAMES N. HILL RETIRES FROM NORTHERN PACIFIC

New York, July 5.—James N. Hill, son of J. J. Hill, and vice president of the Northern Pacific railway, retired from the vice presidency today. He will be succeeded by Colonel W. P. Clough, who has been identified with the Northern Pacific as a director, member of the executive committee and as legal adviser for a number of years. It is understood that Mr. Hill's retirement follows his decision to take a long vacation in Europe. It is denied that the Hill family has any intention to withdraw or in any wise reduce its interest in railway business.

REPORTS OF PLAGUE IN HAVANA ARE DISTURBING

Washington, July 5.—Reports that bubonic plague has appeared in Havana are causing serious concern.

Juan Guiteras, head of the Cuban department of health, today cabled Surgeon General Blue, of the public health and marine hospital service, that it has not been determined whether the suspected cases were bubonic plague. The United States will adopt protective measures if the disease turns out to be plague. The plague situation is improving, no new cases having been reported for four days.

Furnishings That Men Are Always Needing Priced Low for the Half Day

The men's furnishing department is right here on the main aisle—men who are in a hurry can slip in here and save enough in five minutes to make the trip worth several hours of their time.

Possibly you need right now very few of the items mentioned below, but also it is possible that when you do need them you will not find these prices. You could not well expect to—these are unusual.

25c Sox at 19c

A quantity of lisle sox, black, as staple as wheat, at 25c, marked for the short day 19c. They have reinforced toe, heel and sole.

50c Sox, 3 Pairs for $1.00

They are of imported lisle, black, and a good lisle thread; makes the best wearing sox and at the same time the lightest and the coolest. Buy by the dozens.

50c Four-in-Hand Ties 25c

It is safe to buy futures here. These are ties that have all the beauty of quality and coloring and pattern that ever 50c bought---now 25c. They are silk, in plain light and dark shades and in neat figured and striped patterns. Some have open ends.

$1.00 Shirts 69c

Judge for yourself just how good a dollar shirt it was—we have never seen better. The materials are madras and percale in plain white dotted and striped. And you need not worry about the laundry—colors are not the wishy-washy kind.

$2.00 and $2.50 Shirts $1.18

In sizes from 15 to 16 1-2. And the patterns are so likable and attractive that this sale amounts to a real opportunity. Imported madras and percales are the materials, striped, flecked and figured, plain, negligee and plaited bosoms.

And While You Are Here

Take a look at Night Shirts and Pajamas. We are firmly convinced that they represent just a little more value than is usually found at the same prices.

That is because we have watched very carefully the little things that most men overlook—how they are sewed, whether there is enough "cloth" in them, whether they are made with an idea of fitting; and then, too, the quality of the material.

Night Shirts . . 50c to $1.50
Pajamas . . . $1.00 to $2.50

Rudolph Waldorf, the 'Crackers' new right-hander, is the next in line in Spahn. He is scheduled to pull his off this afternoon against the Montgomery Billikens in the first game of a double-header.

DOUBLE HEADER WITH BILLIES TODAY

Gilly, the Gopher (Didn't Know There Was a Gillyette Did You?) By L. Gregg

Whiffs

Was All Rivers.

AD WOLGAST can thank Dame Fortune that he still holds the lightweight championship title. If ever a champion got away with a lucky decision, Wolgast was the one. According to the detail of the fight, round by round, sent in by the Associated Press, Rivers had the edge in six rounds, Wolgast had three and three were even, until that farce in the thirteenth.

Queers Himself.

WELCH, who refereed the battle, has queered himself. He'll never referee another fight, that's a certainty, that is, he'll never referee one that Rivers participates in. How he could give the decision to Wolgast in the face of what happened, according to the stories, is hard to figure. When he gave the decision to the champion, Wolgast was knocked unconscious. He was just as much knocked out as Rivers, and according to those who held ringside seats, Rivers was hit a foul blow. Add to this the statement of the timekeeper of the club that the gong had rung and Welch has no last leg to stand on.

Self-Protection.

WOLGAST knew that he was a beaten champion and he resorted to tactics that were unsportsmanlike to save himself in the event that he did lose. He left a question open as to whether he fouled or not and if Rivers had beaten him he would have had a comeback on the strength that the Mexican won on a foul and he was entitled to another chance. Some promoter is sure to match Wolgast and Rivers up again and when they do get together our money goes down on the little Mexican. He's Wolgast's master.

Season Half Gone.

THE SOUTHERN League season has passed the half way mark. And it begins to look more like the Birmingham Barons every day. Moley has his team playing steady, consistent ball and if they are to be headed some other team will have to show more strength than it has shown to date. The Barons are easily the class of the league.

Poor Decision.

THE DECISION awarding the fight Thursday night between O'Keefe and Whitney to the former was not a just one. There was no margin for either boxer at any stage throughout the battle. Whitney conceded about five pounds to O'Keefe to keep from disappointing the crowd, and he fought him to a standstill. O'Keefe showed some flashes in spots, but at no time was his work any more than a flash. Whitney, however, was not the Whitney of old. The illness of Mrs. Whitney, who is not expected to live, affected his local showing. The Whitney that fought O'Keefe was not the Whitney that fought and made a monkey out of Grover Hayes.

Was Honest.

BROWNFIELD was honest in his decision. Being human, he is likely to make mistakes just like anyone else. No one is infallible. This time he did make a mistake. A draw decision was the only one that he could possibly have rendered.

Senators Best.

WASHINGTON catchers have shown in the best form in throwing out would-be base stealers so far. They have flagged seventy-two attempted steals this season. St. Louis is next and New York third.

Not Just.

THE CRITICISM that fans heap upon a pitcher for passing a dangerous hitter at a critical stage in the game is not just. Pitchers do not pass these men because they are afraid of them, but because they are working their percentages correctly. Take the case of Frank Baker. Hughes had the Athletics beaten in Philadelphia when Baker hit the ball over the fence. In the next game that Hughes pitched against them he passed Baker three times, with men on bases, and the Athletics did not score. Yet the fans yelled "yellow" at Hughes when he was protecting his own interests and his team.

Going Good Now.

JOE JACKSON compiled his one hundredth hit of the season in Detroit on Wednesday, when he got three hits, and, according to the statistician on one of the Detroit papers, Joe showed his batting average to 408 thereby. Cobb also passed the one hundred mark after the double bill with the Browns on the Fourth of July.

Not As Good.

JOHN McGRAW claims that his present team is better than the one with which he won the pennant in 1906, but critics around the circuit differ with him. They admit that a few of the present Giants are better than some of those who played in 1906, but they do not believe that the entire team is better. Still McGraw ought to know. He managed both teams.

Double Header Today; Finals With Billikens; Waldorf to Hurl One

A steady downpour all afternoon Friday made the playing of the scheduled game between the Billikens and the Crackers out of the question.

A double bill will be played this afternoon, the first game to be started at 2:30 o'clock.

Rudolph Waldorf, the Crackers' huge right hander, will make his debut in one of the games, presumably the first, with Pat Donahue receiving his slants. Frank Dessau and Pat Graham will be the local battery in the other.

Bagby and McAllister in the first game and Johns and Gribbens in the second will probably be the Billikens' batteries.

The following is the probable batting order:

WOLGAST AND RIVERS MAY MEET AGAIN ON LABOR DAY

Los Angeles, July 5.—Hardly anything happened today that would help clarify to any extent the confusion that came at the end of yesterday's championship lightweight fight between Ad Wolgast and Joe Rivers at Vernon.

The cries of "fake" which resounded through the fight pavilion yesterday echoed among the haunts of sporting men. Promoter McCarey said that in view of grave doubt laid against the decision of Referee Welch in awarding the fight to Wolgast as a knockout, he was undecided as to giving the $800 diamond belt to the champion.

Fans Want Bout.

Scores of men who were among the 11,000 spectators called at the offices of the Pacific Athletic Club to suggest that the boys be sent together in another twenty-round battle to decide finally the question of supremacy.

Rivers and his manager, Joe Levy, expressed willingness to fight the battle over again, but Wolgast and his business director, Tom Jones, maintained silence. If the two boys get together again it is said the battle will be fought on Labor day.

"After Welch helped Wolgast to his feet and rendered his rank decision," said Levy, "I offered to start the fight over again right there. But Welch disappeared and Jones and Wolgast refused. I am willing now to send Rivers back into the ring against Wolgast any time."

Wolgast in Camp.

Wolgast did not leave his training camp to which he repaired immediately after the fight until late today.

Rivers was about town early. His right eye was cut and almost closed, his nose considerably swollen and his mouth puffed and cut.

Wolgast also showed the marks of the pounding he had received. One of his ears gave signs of "cauliflowering," both eyes were black and there were several cuts between his forehead and chin.

TALLADEGA GETS HUNTSVILLE CLUB

Huntsville, Ala., July 5.—Manager Riggs will transfer the Huntsville baseball franchise in the Southeastern League to Talladega asturday, where he will open with Selma, Monday. Public interest waned to no attendance the latter part of the first season of the league when nearly every game was lost. It is not believed the drawing out of Huntsville will affect the league's stability.

ATLANTAN WINS SHOOT AT CINCY

H. D. Freeman, of Atlanta, broke the world's record and won the world's championship in the big championship trap shoot at Cincinnati, Ohio, on July 4.

Score 189x200 as follows:

RED SOX 5, ATHLETICS 3

Philadelphia, July 5.—Philadelphia and Boston split even in a double-header here this afternoon. Philadelphia won the first game 3 to 2, E. Collins scoring the deciding run on his double and McInnis' single. Boston landed the second contest, 5 to 3, through Morgan's wildness in the last two innings.

Score—First game:

	R.	H.	E.
Boston	2	4	1
Philadelphia	3	6	1

Batteries: O'Brien and Carrigan; Houck, Coombs and Egan. Time, 1:42. Umpires, O'Loughlin and Egan.

Score—Second game:

Boston	3	8	3

White Sox 7, Tigers 3.

Chicago, July 5.—Chicago hit Works freely today and won from Detroit, 7 to 3. Harry Lord, third baseman for Chicago, was overcome by heat and retired in the third inning in favor of Seider, whose suspension Manager Callahan lifted today.

Score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	7	12	5

Batteries—Walsh and Kuhn; Works, Stanage and Onslow. Time, 1:50. Umpires, Connolly and Hart.

Senators 6, Yanks 5

Washington, July 5.—Washington defeated New York today in a 16-inning contest, 6 to 5. Johnson and Warhop hooked up in a pitchers' battle, after Fisher and Engel had been pulled from the box, and pitched desperately until the final round. Then Warhop weakened and the winning run was batted home by Morgan after two were out. Daniels had hard luck today. Both Engel and Johnson knocked him down with swift inshoots, but he remained in the g[illegible] until the finish.

Score:

	R.	H.	E.
N. York	6	14	5
Wash	7	11	1

Batteries—Fisher, Warhop and Sweeney; Engel, Johnson and Williams and Ainsmith. Time, 3:05. Umpires, Evans and Westervelt.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Giants 6, Dodgers 1.

New York, July 5.—Mathewson, who was knocked out of the box by Brooklyn yesterday, came back strong today, defeating the Brooklyns 6 to 1. New York drove Barger off the slab in less than one inning. Kent, who relieved him, pitched a strong game.

Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	1	6	1

Batteries: Barger, Kent and Miller; Mathewson and Meyers. Time, 1:25. Umpires, Brennan and Emslie.

Pirates 7, Reds 4.

Batteries—O'Toole and Simon; Humphries and McLean. Time, 1:50. Umpires, Klem and Bush.

Phillies 10, Doves 0.

Boston, July 5.—Rixey, Philadelphia's elongated recruit pitcher from the University of Virginia, held Boston without a score today, while his teammates were piling up ten runs. Only two Boston men reached second base. Pitcher Hub Perdue settled his differences with the local management today.

Score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Boston	0	7	1

Cubs 4, Browns 0.

Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	4	7	0
St. Louis	0	5	1

New Three-Mile Mark.

New Orleans, La., July 5.—Oscar Rabensteiner, of the Broadway Athletic Club, set a new southern record in a 3-mile run in American Athletic Union contests at a Woodmen of the World festival here yesterday, when he covered the distance in 17:13 from the scratch. The old record was 17:18. He was placed in "scratch" upon his own request after he had been allowed a handicap.

Olympic Games Open Saturday At Stockholm

Stockholm, July 5.—Stockholm has set a standard for Olympic arrangements and hospitality which future Olympiads hardly will be able to surpass. The stadium appointments are the most luxurious ever known in Europe.

Immediately after the football games were finished yesterday workmen began to prepare the great field for the other sports—apparatus for great gymnastic displays, pole vaulting, jumping trenches and wrestling platforms.

The ceremonies of opening the athletic section of the games will take place tomorrow. After the athletes march past the king, Crown Prince Gustave Adolph, the honorary president of the Swedish Olympic committee, will deliver an address. The court chaplain will then read the sermon, after which the hymn, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," will be sung by the entire assemblage.

The weather today is again hot and favorable to the American athletes, nearly all of whom are ashore and training for their particular events. The king of Sweden is impressed by the rifle work of the American team and has asked that one of the American rifles be sent to him for a trial at the targets.

In the final of the out-of-door lawn tennis men's singles, Winslow, of South Africa, beat H. A. Kitson, also of South Africa.

SOUTH ATLANTIC

Indians 9, Babies 1.

Savannah, Ga., July 5.—Savannah hammered Dugglebey hard and easily took the third game of the series here from Albany today, 9 to 1. The hitting of Robertson and Lipe and a running catch by Betts in the first inning were the features.

The score:

Albany	1	5	5

Peaches 5, Palmettos 4.

Columbia, S. C., July 5.—Macon's hits came at opportune moments this afternoon and the visitors defeated the locals, 5 to 4, in a game in which each club used two pitchers. Stupid work by the locals kept the score down. The rather dull game was featurd by a throw from Witter completing a double play, a stop by Herold and a sensational catch by Hurley.

Macon	5	11	2
Columbia	4	7	1

Batteries—Martin, Voss and Kahlkoff; Hidy, Dashner and Hinton. Time, 2:00. Umpire, Kelly.

Foxes 6, Scouts 5.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 5.—Jacksonville twice tied Columbus, who got away to a good lead today, but the visitors won out in the tenth inning. The game, while not sensationally played by either team, was one of the exciting kind that kept the spectators in the stands until the last man had been retired in the tenth. Both teams left tonight for Columbus, where a game will be played tomorrow. The locals also play in Columbus the first three days of next week.

The box score:

Columbus	6	11	2

M'Elveen-Dobbs Row Over; Belligerents Bury Hatchet; Will Be No Prosecution

"Humpty" McElveen, third baseman of the Atlanta baseball club, and Johnny Dobbs, manager of the Montgomery club, principals in a fight which occurred in front of the Aragon hotel Thursday night, yesterday morning agreed to bury the hatchet.

McElveen took the initiative in the matter and called Dbbs over the telephone at his hotel, telling him that he was sorry the trouble came up and that he was ready to consider the matter closed. Dobbs readily agreed with him and said that as far as he was concerned it was forgotten.

Will Not Prosecute.

The cases against Dobbs, Elberfeld, Atchison and Bills, all members of the Montgomery club, who were arrested at the time of the trouble, will be called before Judge Broyles this morning, but it is probable that McElveen will not appear to prosecute them. This was intimated by Manager Charley Hemphill of the Atlanta club at a late hour Thursday night, and the fact that McElveen and Dobbs yesterday agreed to consider the incident closed is further evidence that there will be no court proceedings.

"No one regrets more than I that this had to occur," said Manager Dobbs last night in discussing the incident. "McElveen and I had been the best of friends at Montgomery, and I had even been criticised by some of my friends there in going to extremes to take up his part in a number of little things which came up. Naturally, when I left Montgomery and heard of various things that he had said regarding me I was very much disturbed. I talked the matter over with some of my friends and they advised me to wait until the Atlanta club came to Montgomery and then see McElveen. This I would not consent to do, and our meeting last night was the result."

No Discussion.

The Montgomery players would not discuss the different reports published yesterday of the raw, saying that it was over and that as far as they were concerned that it was a thing of the past.

No trouble is expected at the game today and the matter seems to be a closed incident, so far as the members of both clubs are concerned.

Finals in Tennis Meet On Tap At East Lake; Atlantans Will Win

By Hay Reynolds.

Atlanta tennis stars will make a clean sweep of the twenty-fifth annual tennis tournament of the Southern Tennis Association, which will be brought to a close with the matches scheduled for this morning and this afternoon.

The general public is invited to witness the events and a large crowd will probably attend, as there will be some excellent tennis in both the singles and the doubles.

Carleton Y. Smith, the winner of the Tennessee state championship this season, will play C. M. Charest, the one-armed wizard of the local club, in the finals in the singles at 10:30 o'clock this morning. They disposed of their opponents in the semi-finals matches on Friday. Mr. Charest defeated Mr. Scott and Mr. Smith winning from Mr. Carter.

Doubles Star Here.

The doubles championship, which is scheduled to be played at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, will see two star teams of Atlanta players pitted against each other. B. M. Grant and E. V. Carter, Jr., will play Nat Thornton and C. Y. Smith, with the odds favoring the latter pair for the championship.

In the ladies' singles Mrs. J. S. Taylor, the winner of the tournament and the right to challenge the title holder, will meet Miss Irvine Murphy, the title holder, at 3:30 o'clock.

In the men's consolation singles J. K. Orr, Jr., of Atlanta, will meet G. Porter, also of Atlanta, in the finals. This takes place in the afternoon also.

The finals in the ladies' singles was played Friday, Mrs. John Milam, of Atlanta, winning from Miss Mae O'Brien, of Atlanta.

Atlanta will also keep the mixed doubles title here, or to be more exact, they will divide it with Nashville, Mrs. Selmour, of Nashville, paired with Nat Thornton, of Atlanta, defeating Mrs. John Milam and Scott, of Atlanta, in the finals.

The results of the matches played Friday were as follows:

MEN'S SINGLES.

Semi-finals.

C. M. Charest (Atlanta) defeated L. D. Scott Atlanta), 6-4, 6-3.

C. Y. Smith (Atlanta) defeated E. V. Carter, Jr. (Atlanta), 8-6, 6-3.

Second Round.

Mrs. Seymour (Nashville) and Thornton (Atlanta) defeated Mrs. Taylor (Atlanta) and Hockendale (Baton Rouge) by default.

Miss O'Brien and Smith (Atlanta) defeated Miss Sturgeon (Atlanta) and Clarke (New Orleans) by default.

Semi-finals.

Mrs. Milam and Scott (Atlanta) defeated Miss T. Perry (Greenville) and Matthews (Atlanta), 7-5, 6-3.

Mrs. Seymour (Nashville) and Thornton (Atlanta) defeated Miss O'Brien and Smith (Atlanta), 6-4, 6-5.

Finals.

Mrs. Seymour (Nashville) and Thornton (Atlanta) defeated Mrs. Milam and Scott (Atlanta), 6-1, 6-4.

MEN'S CONSOLATION SINGLES.

Semi-Finals.

J. K. Orr, Jr. (Atlanta), defeated L. Bayly (Baton Rouge), 6-4, 6-1.

G. Porter (Atlanta) defeated George Clarke (New Orleans), 6-2, 6-2.

Finals.

Mrs. John Milam (Atlanta) defeated Miss Mae O'Brien (Atlanta), 6-3, 8-6.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

Vols 2, Gulls 1.

Nashville, Tenn., July 5.—Nashville won from Mobile in a sensational sixteen-inning game this afternoon by the score of 2 to 1. Bair bested Demaree in the pitching duel and twirled a remarkable game. He pulled out of some bad holes at times but for the greater part of the contest was unhittable. The game was marred somewhat by the contentions of the visitors, two of whom, Walsh and O'Dell, were benched by Umpire Breitenstein for disputing decisions. Outfielder James distinguished himself by hitting safely four times in succession, three of the hits being for two bases and the final single winning the game. Two games were scheduled for the day, but the second was called off.

Johnson Leaves Scene of Fight With Big Check

Las Vegas, N. M., July 5.—Unscathed by his fight with Jim Flynn yesterday and with a check from Jack Curley for $31,000 in his pocket, Jack Johnson is on his way back to Chicago. Flynn is at his Montezuma camp nursing a nose smashed flat.

Johnson did not say what his future plans would be, but gave the impression he would accept the offer to go to Australia to fight Sam Langford.

MISCELLANEOUS.

POULTRY BARGAINS AT KIMBALLVILLE FARM.

SINCE the beginning of Kimballville we have made a specialty of two varieties of chickens—the White Orpingtons and the S. C. White Leghorns.

THAT means that we have built up a flock of birds that have proved their worth as egg producers. When you buy from us you know that you are getting birds that have passed our test. Our culls go to the frying pan.

BECAUSE we have had splendid hatches this spring, and few losses, we have a surplus of good birds on hand; too many, in fact, and for this reason we must sell at a sacrifice. Look over the following prices, and see if you can afford to miss this chance.

Ant Advertising Finds Boarders

Of the worth-advertising boarding houses—and, generally, they may be depended upon to fill "vacancies" at the table before such vacancies become an irritating daily loss. There's probably no other business that may be made fully successful through so small an outlay for advertising as this business of keeping boarders.

MAY STAY, BUT MUST BE NICE

The men of Dayton, Wyo., are all breathing sighs of relief. The town's woman mayor, who was elected on a clean-up ticket some weeks ago, had them scared for a while. They hardly knew to what lengths she would go before she got through. Now she has announced that all men who will promise to be good may stay in the town. Further, she declares that she shall see to it that the women of the town do not impose upon the mere males of the place.

"I'm not going to let the women impose on the men," she said recently. "The men need have no fear on that score. We are going to make of Dayton the cleanest town in Wyoming, morally, physically, financially and in every other way. But the women will not run the men out of town. The men can stay as long as they behave themselves."

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

Fitzhugh Knox has exchanged for the Knox Realty Company No. 165 Seventeenth street, in Ansley Park, a 5-room bungalow on a lot 50x290, valued at $5,700, and No. 42 Poplar circle, in Inman Park, a 5-room bungalow on a lot 50x100, valued at $4,600, with Clarence Blosser for a vacant lot 200x150 on Euclid avenue at the corner of Hurt street and Poplar circle, valued at $4,000, the entire deal involving $14,300 worth of property. Mr. Blosser paid a cash difference of $6,300.

An interesting announcement in connection with this deal is that Mr. Knox intends later to improve this corner with a high-class apartment house.

Other Realty Sales.

R. A. Tomlinson, of Edwin P. Ansley's agency, has sold for Claude Barnwell to W. N. McArthur, a vacant lot at the southeast corner of Maddox and Avery drives for a consideration of $2,200. The lot fronts 70 feet on Maddox drive, with a depth of 228 feet along Avery.

The Atlanta Suburban Realty Company has sold for Alca Huddleston to E. B. Brown a vacant lot on Anderson avenue for $500.

The Arthur S. Harris agency has sold for Mrs. Ellen B. Buck to a client a part of the oldDeerland park subdivision, fronting 100 feet on the west side of Peachtree road, with a depth of 525 feet on one line and 621 on the other, for a consideration of $10,000. The lot lies about 300 feet north of the Jack J. Spalding property.

Will Add to Building.

Announcement was made on Friday that the Davison-Paxon-Stokes Company will make alterations in the Whitehall frontage on their building at Hunter street similar to that which is now practically complete on the Broad street end of the structure. It is planned to carry the building to a height of seven stories.

Making Oldest Road New.

Work has begun on widening and cherting Adamsville road from the city limits to the river, according to the plans passed up by the county commissioners at a recent meeting.

The road will be widened to a uniform breadth of 60 feet all the way. This entire width will not be cherted at present, but a roadbed through the center of ample width is now in the course of construction.

It is an interesting fact that Adamsville road was one of the first roads ever established in what is now Fulton county, that part of Fulton at the time the road was first opened being a part of Henry county.

Expert Opinions.

Cholly—That Reggy's a beast. I told him Mrs. Soandso had jilted me, and he congratulated me.
Clarence—Don't mind him, old chap. He was married to her once."

Many of the English suffragists have nearly starved themselves to death in prison. This sort of fanaticism may be easy to laugh at for a while, at long range, but it is a mighty serious thing to deal with, none the less.

De Wolf Hopper will be the star player of the company which will present, under the management of the Shuberts, "The Pirates of Panzance," "Patience," "Pinafore" and "The Mikado."

A lot of delegates will have to eat their angry words before anybody can land two-thirds of the warring democrats in the Baltimore convention.

STATE COMMITTEE WILL MEET TODAY

A Simplified Situation Now Confronts It

No Other Candidates Have Announced, and It Is Thought Primary Will Be Fixed as Early as Possible Following Adjournment of Legislature.

At noon today in the senate chamber the state executive committee will meet for the purpose of fixing dates for the state primary and state convention, and announcing rules for the government of the primary election.

There has been some talk of delaying the date of the primary, due to the expectation that another candidate for governor might enter the race, but it is now practically settled that the entries are closed, and there is no apparent reason for putting the primary off any longer than the law and certain conditions necessitate.

Both Attorney General T. S. Felder and Congressman T. W. Hardwick, who have been prominently mentioned in connection with the governorship, have announced their decisions not to enter the race, and there is now every indication that it will be fought out between the two candidates who have been sometime before the people, Hon. John M. Slaton and Hon. Joe Hill Hall.

Primary in August.

Indications point to the selection of a date around August 20 for the state primary. This is Wednesday and is within six days following the adjournment of the legislature.

Chairman W. C. Wright, of the state committee, indicated in an interview some time ago that the primary would probably fall somewhere around this date, though he said the statement was merely an expression of his own opinion and not the result of conference with any members of the committee.

With only the two candidates named and other statehouse races not stirring up any particular excitement, the state committee will have comparatively easy sailing in the matter of fixing dates.

There is a state law which requires the secretary of state to have prepared election blanks for distribution to each county, upon which must appear the names of all candidates, thirty days before the state election. To comply with this it would appear that the state convention will have to be held along about September 1. As that date falls on Sunday, it would have to be put on one side or the other of it.

Primary Rules.

So far as is known there is no departure contemplated for the rules which have generally been laid down in the past for the government of state primaries.

The county unit plan has been shelved on two occasions, but the last time, in connection with the presidential primary, it was stated to have been due to a requirement that the conditions of the primary should be similar to those of the primary of 1908. It was claimed this was the reason for the abandonment of the county unit plan.

It is generally believed that the committee will base the coming primary on the county unit plan, as there is a general desire among the candidates for that plan. Most of the candidates now before the people have strongly indorsed it.

SUIT FOR $255,000 FILED BY ENGLISH

President of Brick Company Alleges Breach of Contract.

Alleging breach of contract, Colonel James W. English, Jr., of Atlanta, president of the Palmer Brick Company, has filed suit for $255,000 damages against Gamble & Stockton, of Jacksonville, in the Walker county superior court.

This attachment has been served by levying on stocks and other properties of the defendant. The details of the suit, it is stated, will be furnished later.

It is alleged that Gamble & Stockton agreed to furnish the funds for the exploitation of a new process for the manufacture of brick, and that the firm has now refused to carry out this agreement.

Colonel English is represented by Hon. Earl Jackson and Judge H. P. Lumpkin, of Lafayette, both of whom were in Atlanta, at the Kimball, last night. They refused to discuss the suit.

CUMMINS WILL NOT JOIN ROOSEVELT'S NEW PARTY

Washington, July 5.—Senator Cummins, of Iowa, candidate for the presidential nomination at Chicago, today announced to some of his friends that he had decided not to join the new party movement led by Theodore Roosevelt.

DR. M. L. TROUTMAN, MINISTER AND SCHOLAR, DIES IN ATHENS

Athens, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Dr. M. L. Troutman, D D., LL D., pastor of the First Methodist church of Athens, and former pastor of Park Street Methodist church in Atlanta, who was known all over the south for his ministerial and scholarly ability, died here this morning at 8 o'clock after an operation for appendicitis. He had been ill several weeks, and the end came quietly.

The news will come as a great shock to probably the greatest number of friends held by any minister in the south, though it has been known for several days that he was in a grave condition. He was taken ill five weeks ago, and grew worse so rapidly that Dr. Floyd McRae, an intimate friend, and Dr. Beattey, of Rome, a brother of Mrs. Troutman, who were in consultation with the local physicians, thought an operation advisable. Death followed.

Dr. Troutman is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bessie Troutman; a daughter, Mrs. Robert C. Wilson, of Athens; three sons, Baldwin Troutman, of Chattanooga; Henry Troutman, of Atlanta, and Robert Troutman, of Athens, who is attending Columbia university.

The body will lie in state at the Athens First Methodist church Saturday morning until noon, when services will be conducted by Dr. Fletcher Walton, Rev. B. P. Allen and M. J. Cofer. It will then be taken to Atlanta, where a Masonic service will be held in Patterson's chapel Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The interment will be at Rome, Ga., where the services will be in charge of the Masons. Dr. Troutman will be laid to rest in Myrtle cemetery, by the side of his son, Reev.

The pallbearers will be L. C. Hopkins, of Atlanta; B. C. Hardeman, H. McWhorter, C. H. Phinizy, M. G. Michael, John Welch, Aaron Cohan and S. V. Sanford. An honorary escort will be formed by the board of stewards, the Knights Templars and others.

Was Great Man.

Dr. Troutman was 52 years old and was born and reared in Floyd county, spending his later days on the farm, and was a successful farmer.

He only received a common school education, and was a self-educated man. His conversational powers were always recognized, and from his early days to the present time he was always listened to attentively by every gathering.

He joined the north Georgia conference in 1894, his first appointment being at Lyerly, Ga., where he labored most accepetably for two years. His first appointment gave evidence of his coming greatness. In his early youth he was married to Miss Beattey, daughter of Dr. Beattey, a distinguished physician of Rome, Ga.

Served in Atlanta.

After serving acceptably some of the many appointments of his conference, he went to Park Street church, Atlanta, for four years before coming to preach at the Atlanta church, so strong were the affections of his people that they almost rebelled when he came to Athens. And more than once was an effort made to secure his return.

Nearly four years ago Dr. Troutman arrived in Athens a comparative stranger, as pastor of the First Methodist church, succeeding Dr. Luke Johnson.

His first sermon made a favorable impression on his congregation, which during his ministry has continued to increase. He was at once recognized as one of the foremost men of the North Georgia conference. His sermons always contained something new and to use one of his favorite expressions, something worth while. One of the many gifts with which he was endowed was a personal magnetism which drew people of all faiths to him and particularly the young people. No one ever secured a stronger place in the affections of all classes in so short a while as did Dr. Troutman. Yesterday all Athens was in gloom over his reported dying condition.

Scholarly Honors.

It was only a few days ago that, though frail and weak, he stood upon the college rostrum and received his diploma as a distinguished graduate of the law class and had the further honorary degree of D.D. conferred by the trustees of the University of Georgia.

He was a great scholar, one of the most ably read men of the age and possessed a flow of language unexcelled. One of the strongest points was his fearlessness in expressing his opinions.

He did this on all occasions and under all circumstances. Those who differed with him admired his loyalty to his convictions and gave him credit for sincerity. Dr. Troutman did not always follow the beaten paths, but was a student and gave to all the benefit of his research.

Probably today no man stood higher in the esteem of all people of all denominations and creeds than did he and his influence is far reaching. All day yesterday crowds were around the hospital, and on every tongue was the query, Have you heard from Dr. Troutman?

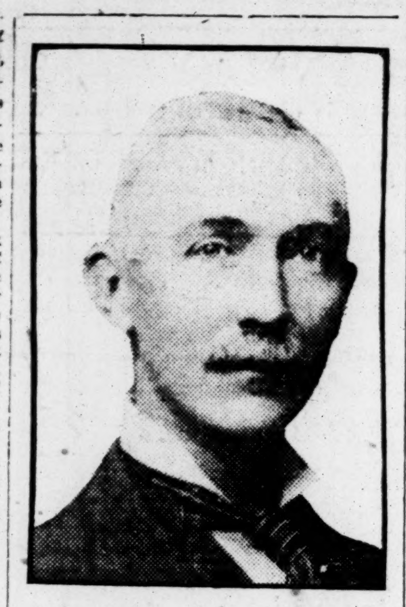

Perhaps the strongest evidence as to his hold upon the affections of his people was the loyalty and love of all his church officials.

The body will arrive on the Seaboard Air Line, from Athens, at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. It will be met by an honorary escort from W. D. Luckie lodge, West End; the Scottish Rite bodies, Atlanta Commandery of Knights Templars, and Yaarab temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, the Masonic bodies with which Dr. Troutman was affiliated.

The body will be escorted to the First Methodist church, where it will lie in state, under a guard of honor from Atlanta commandery, from the hour of arrival until the funeral service to be held there by the Scottish Rite bodies at 8 o'clock.

The funeral service, while Masonic in every sense of the word, will be open to the public.

After the services the body will be taken charge of by H. M. Patterson, and on Sunday morning it will be carried to Rome, Ga., via the Southern railway, leaving Atlanta at 6:40 o'clock.

DR. M. L. TROUTMAN, Beloved pastor who died in Athens on Friday.

Special cars have been provided for the escort of Scottish Rite Masons and Knights Templars and the friends of Dr. Troutman who will attend the interment at Rome.

The following named brethren are asked to assemble at the Union depot at 4 o'clock, to act as pallbearers and as an honorary escort:

CONSPIRACY IS DEFENSE'S FORTE

Wytheville, Va., July 5.—Rapid progress was made today in the trial of Claude Allen, thirteen witnesses being examined. The bulk of the testimony was of a nature to show that there existed a conspiracy on the part of the Allens to shoot up the Carroll county court. Several witnesses testified as to threats made against the court previous to the tragedy by Floyd Allen, father of the defendant, and who has already been found guilty of first-degree murder for his part in the wholesale killings.

During the cross-examination of S. B. Weddle it was brought out that a short time before the trouble at Hillsville he had bought an automatic revolver for Clerk Dexter Goad, upon whom the defense is trying to fasten responsibility for the shooting.

Another witness was Goad's deputy, W. C. Quesenberry, and on cross-examination he stated that he went into the court room armed because he had previously had trouble in the clerk's office with one of the Allens.

The undertaker who prepared the victims of the Allens' bullets for burial described the nature of their wounds; and a civil engineer exhibited plans of the court room at Hillsville.

BANK OF LAGRANGE ORDERS DIVIDENDS

LaGrange, Ga., July 5.—More than $40,000 in dividends were paid out by LaGrange banks and factories during the past week, and among the companies clearing such dividends, were the LaGrange National bank, which paid $6,000; LaGrange Savings bank, $1,000; LaGrange Banking and Trust Company, $12,000; The Troup Company, $14,000; Bank of LaGrange, $2,000; Unity Cotton Mills, $7,521. Local stockholders of the Atlanta and West Point railroad also received a three per cent semi-annual dividend from that corporation.

Flags Are Raised.

LaGrange, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—With Colonel Hatton Lovejoy and Hon. J. E. Dunson, president of the board of education, as principal speakers, a flag raising exercise was held Thursday afternoon, at the local high school grounds and an American flag was presented to the school through the beneficence of a number of local citizens, the pole and ball being furnished by the city. A musical program was given in which Miss Viola Burks, Mesdames Ethel Dallis Hill and J. E. Lane participatel, with Mrs. J. E. Witherspoon as reader.

Contract Is Let.

LaGrange, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Contract for the new Callaway department stores has been let to Messrs. H. J. Carr & Co., of Atlanta, and building work will shortly begin on the structure, which is to cost approximately $25,000, and to be three stores in height, with basement. The new building will be located at Main and Broome streets and will be modernly equipped in every respect and the company, which is headed by Messrs. E. R. and H. W. Callaway, expects to have one of the finest department stores in western Georgia. The S. H. Kress & Co. store will be started shortly also, and will adjoin the Callaway store.

New Lanudry Building.

LaGrange, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Pike Bros. Lumber Co., of this city, having been given the contract for the new LaGrange electric laundry, have begun work on the new building, which is to cost in the neighborhood of $4,000, and to be furnished with equipment to cost $9,000, and to be operated by Mr. Humphries Reaves, of Greeneville, Tenn., who, with Messrs. Briscoe, of Knoxville, Tenn., are the owners of the new enterprise. The contractors expect to finish the building in sixty days and the laundry will be in operation thirty days thereafter.

Barbecue Draws Crowd.

LaGrange, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Over 2,000 people were in attendance at the annual barbecue given by the officials of the Unity Cotton, Unity Spinning and Elm City Cotton mills, in a grove near Elm City mills on Thursday afternoon. The crowd greatly enjoyed the repast, which was under the capable supervision of superintendents and other officials. The Dunson mills officials also gave a barbecue to a large crowd at the same time in a grove near the mills.

Minstrel Proves Success.

LaGrange, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The Young Men's Club, under the direction of Lester Busch, gave an amateur minstrel performance at LaGrange college auditorium Friday night for the benefit of the LaGrange Chautauqua Association, and about six hundred people were in attendance. The minstrels cleared about $150 for the association. In addition to the above management the club will shortly take the minstrel company to several towns nearby for minstrel performances, the next engagement will, however, be at the Mission house, Unity Cotton mills, on Monday night, July 15.

SENATOR LODGE UPHOLDS ANDREW

Says That MacVeagh's Statement Is Absurd.

Former Assistant Secretary Saved Government Thousands of Dollars, He Declares—An Investigation Is Unlikely, It Is Said.

Washington, July 5.—Senator Lodge today vigorously dissented from Secretary MacVeagh's statement that his former assistant in the treasury department, A. P. Andrew, was asked to resign because he was inefficient.

"The statement of Mr. MacVeagh that A. Piatt Andrew was inefficient is absurd," was Senator Lodge's comment.

"I know of him as a professor at Harvard and President Elliott recommended him to the national monetary commission as a trained political economist and linguist. When he was director of the mint I know he was considered an efficient administrator and I am told that during the year he held the office he saved the government $320,000 through reforms. While he was assistant secretary I am told he inaugurated reforms which resulted in large economies."

Government circles today had not recovered from the shock of the abrupt resignation of Andrew, his strictures of Secretary MacVeagh and the latter's retort that Andrew has been practically dismissed for inefficiency.

Others May Resign.

It was said that at least one of the other officials whom Andrew mentioned in his letter to President Taft as being "hampered by Mr. MacVeagh's idiosyncracies," might be on the verge of resignation. Others hastened to reiterate their declarations that their relations with the treasury head were cordial, though some of these were qualified.

Mr. MacVeagh will return Monday. It was reported today he had indicated to President Taft his determination not to continue in the cabinet after March 4, should President Taft be re-elected. It could not be confirmed. It is known, however, that two other members of the cabinet have given notice to that effect.

Investigation Is Unlikely.

The proposed congressional investigation of the embroglio in the treasury department between Secretary MacVeagh and former Assistant Secretary A. Piatt Andrew may not come about unless Mr. Andrew makes some specific charge against Mr. MacVeagh.

Representative Cox, of Indiana, chairman of the house committee to which the investigation resolution of Representative Cox, of Ohio, was referred, said today that his committee regarded the controversy so far as a family row. Mr. Cox, of Ohio, declared, nevertheless, he would press his resolution.

It was reported today that some of the officials whom Mr. Andrew, in his letter to the president, mentioned as being dissasisfied with Mr. MacVeagh's administration, had threatened to resign, or had offered to resign with Mr. Andrew.

Statements of Others.

Director Ralph, of the bureau of printing and engraving, when asked if he had offered to resign some time ago, said: "There is just sufficient truth in that to warrant Mr. Andrews making the statement. I regret he saw fit to mention my name."

Royal S. Cabell, commissioner of internal revenue, declines flatly to discuss a report that he had twice threatened to resign.

Treasurer McClung continued to preserve his silence, and Comptroller of the Currency Murray is out of the city. Dr. Andrew's friends say that Mr. Murray and others mentioned saw and approved the statements in Mr. Andrew's letter of resignation to the president. Dr. Andrew's friends also say he resigned in person to President Taft last Tuesday night.

ENGINE OF PRESIDENT ATTRACTS ATTENTION

A little engine that looked like a toy when the big passenger moguls flashed by, and which was so fine with shining brass and burnished copper that it might have been taken for some model exhibit at an exposition, and not a means of locomotion in all weathers, stood parked on a siding under the Forsyth street viaduct yesterday, and held court before an admiring throng that seemed to linger throughout the day.

It is the private engine and special pet of President J. W. Thomas, Jr., of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, who often as not takes the throttle himself just to keep his hand in practice, and who has taught his younger daughter the mysteries of railroad navigation. The engine is small, but powerful, and from cowcatcher to cab, from driving rod to smokestack glitters with ornamentation. It is, of course, an object of admiration and pride all along the system.

Both the summer girl and the fly do considerable buzzing around their victims before landing them.—Judge.

HESTER'S MONTHLY COTTON STATEMENT

New Orleans, July 5.—Secretary Hester's New Orleans Cotton Exchange statement, issued today, covers the monthly movement to June 30.

Compared with last year it shows an increase for the month in round figures of 32,000 bales, compared with year before last a decrease of 33,000 and with 1909 a decrease of 102,000.

The total for June was 170,425, against 138,171 last year, 203,750 year before last and 272,497 same time in 1909.

The movement from September 1 to June 30, inclusive, shows receipts at all United States ports 11,789,807, against 8,524,633 last year, 7,169,885 year before last and 9,884,028 same time in 1909; overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to northern mills and Canada 968,586, against 920,743 last year, 788,501 year before last and 1,185,522 same time in 1909; southern mills takings, exclusive of quantity consumed at southern out-ports, 2,388,500, against 2,141,000 last year, 2,093,000 year before last and 2,247,000 same time in 1909; and interior stock in excess of those held at the commencement of the season 70,807, against 60,895 last year, 90,658 year before last and 75,263 same time in 1909.

These make the total movement of the cotton crop brought into sight during the ten months ending close of June 15,217,700, against 11,647,271 last year, 10,142,044 year before last and 13,352,813 same time in 1909.

Northern spinners took during June 81,730 bales, against 49,417 last year and 71,286 year before last, increasing their total for the ten months to 2,334,519, against 2,053,915 last year and 1,998,237 the year before. This makes their average weekly takings for the season 53,338, against 47,450 last year, and 46,497 the year before.

Foreign exports for the ten months of the season have been 10,233,065 bales, showing an increase over last season of 2,883,513 and an increase over the same period year before last of 4,355,969.

Stock at the seaboard and the 29 leading southern interior markets on June 30, were 496,762, against 309,357 the same date last year, and 403,297 the year before.

Including port and interior town stocks left over from the previous season and the number of bales of the current crop brought into sight during the ten months, the supply has been 15,504,674, against 11,895,233 last year and 10,394,360 the year before.

Up to June 30 last year 96 11-100 per cent of the cotton crop had been marketed and for the same ten months in 1910 the percentage of the crop brought into sight was 95 60-100 and for the same time in 1909 the percentage marketed was 96 58-100.

In addition to the monthly movement, Secretary Hester issued today a weekly statement for the seven days ending July 5, showing amount brought into sight for the week 32,502, against 20,373 for the seven days ending July 5 last year, 13,343, year before last and 37,399 same time in 1909.

Hester's World's Visible Supply.

New Orleans, July 5.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton made up from special cable and telegraphic advices compares the figures of this week with last week, last year and the year before. It shows a decrease for the week just closed of 238,388, against a decrease of 165,935 last year and a decrease of 192,937 year before last.

The total visible is 3,187,329, against 3,425,717 last week, 2,232,299 last year and 2,251,808 year before last. Of this the total of American cotton is 2,194,329, against 2,359,717 last week, 1,209,399 last year and 1,220,808 year before last, and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 2,993,000, against 1,066,000 last week, 1,023,000 last year and 1,031,000 year before last.

The world's visible supply of cotton as above shows a decrease compared with last week of 238,388, an increase compared with last year of 954,93 and an increase compared with year before last of 935,521.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton as above there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 2,037,000, against 1,300,000 last year and 1,176,000 year before last; in Egypt 82,000, against 87,000 last year and 72,000 year before last; in India 605,000, against 542,000 last year and 656,000 year before last; and in the United States 463,000, against 303,000 last year and 348,000 year before last.

Taking of American Cotton by Spinners

Total since September 1 this year 13,840,000, against 11,232,000 last year and 10,394,000 the year before.

Of this, northern spinners and Canada took 2,344,000 bales this year, against 2,048,000 last year and 2,019,000 the year before; southern spinners 2,452,000, against 2,198,000 last year and 2,183,000 the year before, and foreign spinners 9,044,000, against 6,086,000 last year and 6,192,000 the year before.

COTTON THE PAST WEEK; REVIEW OF THE MARKET

New York, July 5.—The cotton trade was caught napping by the government report on Wednesday. Even many of the bulls seemed to be dosing. They woke up, however. Everybody seemed to be buying at once as soon as the condition and acreage figures were announced and prices, therefore rapidly advanced. The condition was given as 80.4 per cent, against 78.9 a month ago, 88.2 last year and 80.7 as the ten-year average. As for the acreage, it was given as only 34,097,000, or 2,584,000 acres less than the total for the last year. As regards the condition, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas and Tennessee made an especially bad showing. Nor do the Carolinas, Florida and Oklahoma appear to advantage. They are well behind last year. Georgia is so far behind as to attract special attention. And since the report, June 25, there have been complaints of excessive rains and cold nights in the Atlantic section and also to some extent in the eastern gulf and central portions of the belt. That makes some people think that real condition of the crop is below 80 per cent. However this may be, very many are bullish on the idea that the condition of the crop is rather bad, that the season is two or three weeks late and that exceptionally favorable weather will be necessary during July and August to raise a crop of anything like the size required.

Of late there has been persistent heavy rains in parts of Georgia, Tennessee and Arkansas. Meantime, the spot sales in Liverpool are surprisingly large. Bulls are elated over this fact. On the other hand, there are those who think that the price of cotton is altogether too high. They believe that spinners are well supplied on both sides of the water. Recently some of them have been selling a little of their spot cotton, evidently believing it can be replaced to advantage later on. The outlook in Texas is very favorable. Many believe the crop in that state will this year be the largest ever raised. They also think that what with the large quantity of cotton likely to be carried over into the next season the present crop can fall off materially and still be large enough to meet the requirements of the domestic and foreign spinners. But poor crop reports, active spot market, at home and abroad, the strength of July in New Orleans and latterly the nervousness of shorts have contributed to cause an advance in prices. The government puts the decrease in acreage at about 7 per cent as against recent estimates from other sources of as low a decrease as half of one per cent.

COTTON HIGHER 10 TO 12 POINTS

Influence of Government's Report Still Felt in the Market.

New York, July 5.—The influence of the government report was again felt in today's market, being chiefly responsible for an advance of 10 to 12 points, with two of the new crop positions selling at the highest point of the season.

The market opened steady and 4 to 9 points higher, in response to strength at Liverpool, where prices at one time on Thursday were 10 to 11 points net higher, and at the hour of local opening today were 6½ to 8 points higher than Wednesday, although due to come only about ½ to 2½ points higher.

Heavy buying of October by spot interests was a feature during the forenoon, but there also was selling by large commission houses on the idea that short interests had been largely eliminated by the advance of 44 to 45 points since the close of last week, and that conditions in the eastern belt, while backward, perhaps, were by no means beyond practically full repair, with a good spell of weather in the near future. This selling movement was successfully resisted up to the last ten minutes of the day, when support was withdrawn and prices eased off rapidly, the close being barely steady at only 2 to 4 points net advance.

There was more rain in the Atlantics, but advices from Texas were very encouraging.

Week-end figures were considered rather bullish.

New Orleans Cotton.

New York, July 5.—Spot cotton closed firm, 1-16 cent up; middling 12½; sales to arrive, 68; low ordinary, 8 15-16, nominal; ordinary, 9⅝, nominal; good ordinary 11 3-16; strict good ordinary, 11 9-16; low middling 11¾; strict low middling 12¼; middling, 12½; strict middling, 12⅝; good middling 13; strict good middling, 13 3-16; middling fair 13½, nominal; middling fair to fair, 13¾, nominal; fair, 14¼, nominal; receipts, 600; stock, 40,249.

Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 2 to 10 points on good cables. Commission houses had good buying orders and the initial advance would have been wider but for the favorable weather map. Practically no rain was shown in the eastern belt. This encouraged shorts, whose offerings held the new crop positions down. Soon after the opening their offerings were checked by the weather forecast of showers for the eastern belt. At the end of the first half hour of business prices were 11 to 14 points up.

Longs took profits at every opportunity during the morning and the offerings from this source worked against the market more than any other influence. Complaints of insects were received from portions of the eastern belt and they served to steady the market, as did also complaints of too much rain in Arkansas. Neither side was aggressive.

At the lowest of the morning prices were still 3 to 10 points up. At noon they were 8 to 11 up.

A dull but steady market prevailed in the afternoon. At 2 o'clock, prices were 9 to 12 points up.

The market closed steady at a net advance of 3 to 11 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, July 5.—The cotton goods markets were steady and quiet. Local wool markets and yarn markets are firm. Jobbers had a quiet day.

SELLING STOCKS MOST OF SESSION

Considerable Part of the Early Week's Rise Was Lost. Bonds Irregular.

New York, July 5.—Stocks were under selling pressure almost from the outset of today's session and a considerable part of the early week's rise was lost. The selling centered about the leaders, with weakness most marked in Amalgamated Copper, United States Steel and Union Pacific. The market was clearly without leadership in either direction, however, and the output represented nothing more than professional trading.

Another shipment of gold to Paris was announced, making a total of $8,000,000 to that center in little more than a week. There is still some mystery surrounding these exports, which are believed to have their origin in the pressing needs of the foreigners. The Bank of England lost over $3,000,000 gold on the week and materially reduced the proportion of its liability reserves, which fell to 41.39 per cent compared with 45.25 per cent this week last year.

Lowest prices of the day were registered in the final hour, when rumors affecting the copper situation and steel earnings for the recent quarter were circulated. Various specialties yielded with the declines elsewhere, producing a generally weak close.

The crop outlook continued most encouraging and advises from all leading railroad centers indicated that traffic officials were making preparations to meet the large harvests, this being especially true of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Bonds were irregular with no pronounced change. Total sales, par value, amounted to $2,309,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

PRICES SMASHED IN GRAIN MARKET

Wheat Closed Over Two Cents Lower—Corn and Oats Off.

Chicago, July 5.—Grain prices went smashing downward today because of a nearly world-wide improvement in crop conditions. Wheat closed 1½ to 2¼@2⅜ lower, corn off 2⅛ to 2½@2⅝ and oats at a decline of ⅝@¾ to 1⅝c. In provisions there was a slant from unchanged figures to 10@12½c down.

In wheat the whole tide of trade swept against the bulls. Since the previous close the entire northwest had received rain in a quantity that removed all doubt as to a flattering prospect in that direction. South Dakota, the dryest state of any, was soaked 4 inches. On the other hand St. Louis and Kansas City sent word of heavy marketing of new wheat with harvest conditions ideal. At the same time cable news was on the side of sellers, weather conditions having changed most favorably over the United Kingdom, France and portions of Russia. A banner day for the bears was the inevitable result, wheat prices being forced off sharply under pressure from discouraged holders and belligerent short sellers. Belated longs found themselves compelled to unload on a fast sinking market and encountered the worst break of the session in the last fifteen minutes. July wheat held up noticeably better than deferred deliveries. The reason was that the ownership of the wheat now here has been centralized and there is said to be little elevator room available for other holdings. Between the opening and the close the September option in which most of the selling took place swung from $1.01 to $1.02½ with the final tone demoralized at the first named figures, a loss of 2¼@2⅜c net.

Corn seemed to be recovering so rapidly from the effect of late planting and other drawbacks that owners of futures not only let go, but distributors were frightened by the chances of still further declines. The July option, as in wheat, was not hampered so freely as other deliveries and showed more power to rally. September fluctuated from 67¼ to 69¼c, closing weak 2½ to 2⅝c net lower at 67¼. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 72¼@72½.

A belief that the largest crop ever raised in this country had become assured made oats at times almost as active and depressed as wheat and corn. Eastern buyers, upset by decline, kept out of the market. Outside limits touched for September proved to be 36¼ and 37½ with the close 36¼, a fall of 1⅝c compared with 48 hours previous.

Constant support from packers sustained provisions, despite grain weakness. A lighter run of hogs helped, so that the average setback for pork, lard and bacon did not amount to more than 5c.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, July 5.—The market today met with further general buying on the part of outside interests, induced, of course, by the complex on given crop prospects by the late bureau report. Supplementing the latter as a feature of strength was the probability of continued rain during the next two days in sections of the belt where clear, warm weather is desired for the best interest of the plant. In the circumstances, prices advanced about ten points, notwithstanding liberal selling by spot houses and several local interests who have supported the market steadily for a month past.

Imports and Exports.

New York, July 5.—Imports of merchandise and dry goods at the port of New York for the week ending June 29 were valued at $19,939,954.

Imports of specie for this port for the week ending today were $77,559 silver and $365,968 gold; exports $1,315,434 silver and $2,191,869 gold.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, July 5.—The market opened with a further rise in Liverpool and a better Manchester and the advance was well held, with some early local selling, on the lack of absolute confidence in the bureau report. The fear of constant long profit-taking deters confident buying, though outside business shows a slow increase. Wall street interests were fair sellers and the south seems rather disposed to avail of present prices.

Money and Exchange.

New York, July 5.—Money on call steady at 2¾@3 per cent; ruling rate and closing bid, 2⅞, offered at 3.

Time loans firm; 60 days, 3 per cent; 90 days, 3¼@3½; six months, 4@4½.

Prime mercantile paper, 4¼@4½ per cent.

Mexican dollars, 48.

Government bonds steady; railroad bonds irregular.

Metals.

New York, July 5.—Copper easy; standard spot, 16⅞@17¼; July, 16.97½@17.20; August, 16.95@17.48; September, 17.05@17.15; electrolytic, 17⅜@17½; lake, 17½@17¾; casting, 17@17¼.

Tin easy; spot, $45.40@45.75; July, $45.00@45.50.

Lead firm at $4.65@4.70.

Spelter firm at $7.20@7.40.

Antimony quiet; Cookson's, $8.00.

Iron steady.

Copper arrivals at New York 50 tons, exports this month, 1,628 tons. Local sales, 50 tons. London copper easy; spot, £76 13s 9d; futures, £77 10s.

WEEK'S TRADE REVIEWED.

What Commercial Agencies Say About Business.

New York, July 5.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say that business is satisfactory and in some important lines active, notwithstanding the usual summer slowing up and stock-taking incident to the time of the year. Moreover, prospects for business are even better than actual current conditions and the characteristic feature of the week's reports from the leading trade and industrial centers in all sections of the country is the expanding and deepening optimism. Confidence is in a considerable degree based on the belief that nothing but a crop failure or other unforeseen calamity can now check the improvement that has set in, and it is noteworthy that nowhere is the optimism more marked than in the agricultural sections.

Results in iron and steel during the first half of the year were eminently satisfactory from a tonnage standpoint and indications point to steady operations throughout the summer. The recent advance in bars, plates and shapes had checked buying slightly, yet the rate of new business practically provides for present capacity. Orders booked in June were reduced somewhat by the lessened demand from the railroads, although purchases of rails, cars and other rolling stock in the first six months compared favorably with previous periods of greatest activity. Premiums are now being paid to secure prompt deliveries of crude steel and quotations for the third quarter have strengthened. There is prospect of a rise of 25c a ton on basic iron, as heavy contracts are pending.

With many houses busy with their inventories and business interrupted by a holiday, the dry goods markets were naturally quiet, but prices were very firm. Cotton mills are well employed and goods are not accumulating. Print cloths are very firm on a basis of 5c for 38½-inch 64x60s and 3 11-16c for 27-inch goods. Trade with the far east is very quiet, but figures show that exports of cotton goods for the eleven months of the fiscal year have exceeded those of 1911 by 5,000,000 yards and of 1910 by 8,000,000.

Woolens and worsteds are selling very satisfactorily. While many of the shoe factories are closed for their stock-taking and repairs, the same confidence is displayed as in the other trades.

New York, July 5.—Flour quiet and nominally lower.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, July 5.—Liverpool showed great strength over the Fourth of July holiday that closed the American markets, and when the local market opened at an advance of 4 to 9 points it met Liverpool only half way. There was a good deal of profit-taking today, although the sentiment of the market is still bullish. There is little attention paid to good crop reports and much made of anything against the crop. New York and Liverpool are more bullish than the south. Fluctuations were within a narrow range, but there was very good tone to the market until just at the close. It closed barely steady, a net advance of 2 to 4 points.

Liverpool is due to come 2 to 3 points down.

There is no selling pressure although, in the main, crop reports continue favorable.

A mean man's recipe for taming his wife is to stay out nights so blamed much she will be glad to see him come home occasionally.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

A dividend of Two Dollars per share will be paid on Monday, July 15th, 1912, to stockholders of record at the close of business on Saturday, June 29, 1912.

PLATFORM QUEERS ALL OPPOSITION TO AMENDMENT

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 5.—(Special.)—Those anti-Underwood southern democrats who have been arguing that Underwood committed a dastardly act when he voted for the senate amendment to the constitutional amendment measure providing for the election of senators by the people, are placed in quite an embarrassing attitude by the unanimous declaration of the Baltimore convention in behalf of that measure.

It will be recalled that when the constitutional amendment providing for the election of senators by the people was passed by both houses of congress, Representative Underwood voted for it, with a large number of other southern representatives and senators. He was violently assailed for his vote.

This attack, however, came from only a few newspapers, most of which were among his most bitter Georgia antagonists.

Strange to say, however, even after the unanimous adoption of the platform by the convention in Baltimore, the attack on the measure has been renewed in Georgia and by newspapers which had most zealously advocated Wilson's nomination.

The Legislative Action.

In addition to this, initial steps have been taken in2 the Georgia house of representatives to defeat what Mr. Bryan has characterized as one of the most progressive of the declarations of the Baltimore platform.

Democrats here are now wondering if the Georgia legislature will be the first to withhold favorable action on this constitutional amendment, which, to become operative, will require the votes of the legislatures of two-thirds of the states.

The platform unanimously adopted at Baltimore not only commends the measure as passed by congress, but refers to it in three different places, specifically including it among the notable achievements of the democratic party toward progressive legislation.

This constitutional amendment will, perhaps, be the first feature of the Baltimore platform that will be up to the people for ratification or rejection, and if the Georgia legislature should act adversely, it is conceded that the republicans would make use of it as indicating that the democrats will not abide by their own platform.

Bryan's View on Primary.

Strong emphasis is being placed on the fact that while the platform declared in favor of direct primaries, Mr. Bryan himself, supposed to be the author of that plank of the platform, refused to abide by the action of the primary in his own state in instructing for Clark, taking it upon himself to qualify the action of the people of his state as expressed at the ballot box by the statement that they never meant that the Nebraska delegates and the New York delegates should, under any circumstances, ever vote for the same man, and that the Nebraska delegates would be relieved from the instructions of the primary if the New York delegates ever voted for the man for whom Nebraska had instructed.

Governor Wilson is known to be strongly in favor of the senatorial-election amendment now being castigated by some of those in Georgia who were most active for his nomination.

WORKING AGREEMENT ENDED BY SENATORS

Washington, July 5.—The working agreement between the democratic and insurgent republican senators is at an end. It has been abrogated as the result of conferences ever since the metal bill was passed in the senate by the democrats in the absence of the regular republicans and without the aid of the insurgents.

The probabe result will be that the house sugar and wool and excise bills will be presented to the senate and voted down by a strict party vote. All the republicans are expected to vote against them and it is probable some of the democrats will join them in opposition to the house sugar bill, which would admit sugar free of duty.

$30,000 NECKLACE THROWN AWAY WITH WASTE PAPER

Boston, July 5.—That a pearl necklace valued at $30,000 was lost last Tuesday night on the steamer Bunker Hill by Miss Attila Thayer, of New York, became known today when the police were notified.

Miss Thayer is of the opinion that when she boarded the steamer in New York the necklace was in a jewelry case with other gems. Just before she came ashore here Wednesday she discovered that the pearls were missing. She could not account for the disappearance of the necklace, but believed possibly it had been thrown away with some waste paper. She went to her summer home in New Hampshire without making a complete investigation.

GOVERNOR WILSON SPENDS BUSY DAYS

open a window and boosted Colonel Alexander in. He tiptoed over to the bags, gathered them in his hands and had started for the window, when the office became flooded with lights. A man, clad in pajamas, stood in the doorway.

"What are you doing here?" he thundered.

It was the governor. A moment later explanations settled the incident.

Old Admirer Turned Tide.

Joseph P. Tumulty, the governor's private secretary, told his chief today what he described as "the inside story" of Illinois' change at Baltimore from Clark to Wilson. It all came about, Mr. Tumulty said he had been informed yesterday, through unrelenting coaxing of Mrs. Roger Sullivan, wife of the former Illinois committeeman, and Roger Sullivan's boy.

"When young Sullivan was at Lawrenceville, going to prep school, governor," the secretary said, "he was very fond of you. When your name was before the country as a candidate he went to his father and asked him to support you. The elder Sullivan, however, did not think as his son did, and after the primaries told the boy that he would have to support Clark, the primary choice.

"The boy won Mrs. Sullivan's sympathy and together they began a Wilson campaign upon the leader. The upshot of it was that Mr. Sullivan promised that he would use his influence for you in case of a break from Clark. When the break came the Clark leaders tried to hold him firm, but he told them he had had a promise to fulfill, and he kept his word."

president," said Roosevelt, "it certainly won't wish to have me name the vice president. That must be done by the people.

HADLEY TO TAKE NO PART IN THIRD PARTY

Jefferson City, Mo., July 5.—"Whether there will be a third party organized in Missouri," said Governor Hadley on his return home today, "I do not know. I know, however, there is no occasion for it, because the republican party in Missouri is a thoroughly progressive organization and will so continue. I have no intention of taking any part in the formation of a third party."

COLONEL'S FRIENDS IN NORTH CAROLINA BUSY

Greensboro, N. C., July 5.—There is no longer any doubt concerning the course supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in North Carolina will pursue.

Leaders of the Roosevelt movement in the state who are in touch with the New York end of the Roosevelt campaign have already started the fight. A conference will be held in Greensboro Monday, and Richmond Pearson, a member of the Roosevelt national committee; Colonel Lusk, of Asheville, and other ardent supporters of the progressive candidate for president will attend. Numerous letters and telegrams are said to have been received by Roosevelt leaders in which it is declared the rank and file of the party in this state is strong for Roosevelt.

The Roosevelt leaders in starting the state campaign for Roosevelt made two positive statements:

First, that they will not vote for Mr. Taft, and, second, that they will not relinquish party machinery and principles. They say they will not be led or cajoled out of the republican party. Friends of Colonel Roosevelt declare that they will be able to control the state convention and county conventions and that the Roosevelt people will choose electors. They insist that those who are in touch with other sections have found that sentiment in the state is practically unanimous against President Taft.

Money Out of Poultry and Eggs

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside the poultry editor publishes an article giving many practical suggestions to poultry raisers as to how they may make money out of their business. Following is an extract:

"As all large business houses practice the most rigid economy in their sales departments, so ought the poultryman to do. He ought to market his products in such a way that they will command the highest market prices. If the poultryman, ten days or two weeks before he intends to market his poultry, will shut them in a darkened room and feed them three times a day on whole corn, his birds will be in better condition to kill or to ship alive. If, when he dresses his poultry, he will only exercise a little more care and be a little more fussy about the packing and the package, he will be amply repaid when his birds arrive in the market; because looks go a long way with all of us, when we are buying our food.

"There is no satisfaction, and but very little money in exchanging eggs for groceries or grain. By being careful in gathering the eggs, so that they won't become chilled in winter and so the hens won't sit on them overnight, and by using a little care in sizing and selecting, quite an advance over the common prices may be obtained. When possible, sell your eggs direct to the consumer. If not possible, get a market in your nearest city with some grocer who deals in strictly fancy groceries and provisions. Agree to furnish him only strictly fresh eggs, and then, for your own sake, live up to your agreement. Carefully clean all the eggs; don't send any small, misshapen or large ones. Stamp each egg with a rubber stamp, using your initials or the name of your farm, and in a short time you will have created a demand for your eggs, and when you have created such a demand, your eggs will bring the highest prices, considerably more than your storekeeper would pay.

"Several neighbors could send their eggs together, paying a cent or two per dozen to one of their number for doing the business, and in this way all would gain a little.

"Economy may also be practiced by several poultrymen in one locality, co-operating and buying their grain in carload or half carload lots, direct from the miller; in this way saving the profits of the local grain dealer."

$2,000,000 FOR BETTER STREETS

that a large number of property holders had been advocating a street bond issue for a long while.

The committee, which met at 3 o'clock Friday, is composed of Clarence Haverty, chairman; Harvey Hatcher, A. D. Thomson, A. H. VanDyke and James B. Everett.

"The committee," stated Chairman Haverty, "is firmly of the opinion that the time has come in Atlanta for a big issue of bonds for street improvements. There are streets all over the city that should be improved at once, and yet if we wait for the necessary funds to come out of the city's annual revenue we will wait twenty or fifty years, or perhaps forever. We will make our report to council favoring the bond issue and if the election is called next year and the people vote for the bonds our streets will be improved and there will be no more complaint like that which has been going on for many years. On the other hand, if the people vote against the bonds, then we will have done all we could and the people will have only themselves to blame for bad streets."

WANTS STEEL CARS IN MAIL SERVICE

Urban A. Walter.

Of the many "publications with a purpose" issued in this country, one of the most unique is "The Harpoon," published at Denver, which exists for the sole purpose of securing steel cars for use in the railway mail service. Practically every railway mail clerk in the country is a subscriber to this publication which is edited by Urban A. Walter. One of Mr. Walter's unusual methods of urging the need of such cars is by the publication of photographs of wrecks which occur in all parts of the country and which show how ordinarily wooden cars have been ground to bits.

Rockmart 6, Cedartown 3.

Rockmart, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Rockmart journeyed to Cedartown and mopped to the tune of 6 to 3. After batting the wonderful C. W. Smith "off the earth," in the second, Rockmart lit onto Fielder's offerings and lambasted them right and left.

The features of the game were the timely batting of Brooks, McRae, Copeland and Doyle and the catching and throwing of Tolbert. Rockmart's 16-year-old catcher, and the wonderful pitching of Dan Freeman, who refused to allow a hit. Rockmart secured ten hits. Rockmart expects to play Rome Athletics Friday.

Slow Travel.

(From The Kansas City Star.)

Down in Oklahoma they have a railroad called the Midland Valley, which is noted for its slow trains. It is told that a young man of Tulsa asked the hand of a daughter from her parents and was refused on the ground that the daughter was too young.

"My daughter is going to Pawhuska tomorrow for a visit," said the father, who is a traveling man, "and if she doesn't remain more than a day or two she will be old enough when she gets back."

"But she may be an old maid by that time," protested the young man.

"I want to see you tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock on something important."

"What do you want to see me ther for?"

"I want to pay you the $5 I am going to touch you for now."

WILL TRY TO KEEP COLO. DEMOCRATIC

Alva Adams.

A prominent figure in Colorado politics this summer will be Alva Adams, former governor of that state. Colorado is normally Democratic by a small majority, and Mr. Adams declares that the entrance of Roosevelt into the presidential fight will split the Republican vote to such an extent that Democratic success in Colorado next November will be absolutely assured.

PARCELS POST IS INDORSED

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Gives View to Virginia Rural Carriers.

Norfolk, Va., July 5.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General P. V. DeGraw, in the principal address today before the ninth annual convention of the Rural Letter Carriers' Association of Virginia, indorsed the parcels post and declared that "the establishment of package or parcels post, not to exceed a cost of 15 cents for a package of 11 pounds, 5 cents for the first pound and 1 cent for each additional pound, will greatly benefit the patrons on rural delivery routes, as well as the merchants located in the villages or towns whence rural delivery starts."

Speaking generally on the parcels post, Mr. DeGraw said:

"It has been charged that I did not seem to realize that such a delivery would be a hard blow to country merchants and would only benefit the department stores of the cities. I do not realize any such thing. Of course there are two sides to every question which may affect different communities in different ways."

Postmaster Edgar Allan, of Richmond, also addressed the carriers' convention today and there was a good roads session tonight addressed by the state highway commissioner, Wilson, of Richmond.

DR. ELLENWOOD ON BASEBALL

At the Universalist church, on East Harris street, Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock, will be held the last service of the season, before the church begins its vacation, which will continue until the first Sunday in September, when all departments of the church will be resumed.

For his last sermon before vacation, the pastor, Rev. E. Dean Ellenwood, will preach on "National Ideals in the National Game." Since coming to Atlanta, six and one-half years ago, it has been his custom to preach a patriotic sermon on the Sunday nearest the Fourth of July.

This year he has decided to combine the usual sermon on patriotism with a serious review of the moral values which he believes are to be found in abundance in the national game, and will endeavor to show how baseball actually tends toward the development of patriotic ideals, and also makes for efficiency in citizenship.

Mr. Ellenwood is himself quite an enthusiastic "fan," and during his school years was a regular participant in the great American game. And he says that his only difficulty now in attending the game is that he always wants to get down into the diamond and take part. Atlanta's lovers of baseball will undoubtedly find much of interest and inspiration in the sermon of Sunday morning. A special invitation is extended to all players, both professional and amateur.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Ellenwood will leave for Chicago, where they will attend the National Convention of the Young People's Christian Union from July 10 to 17, after which Mr. Ellenwood will attend classes at the University of Chicago until September 1.

RUBE WADDELL SERIOUSLY ILL

Minneapolis, July 5.—George Edward Waddell, pitcher, known in the baseball world as the "Eccentric Rube," and for many years a member of various major league teams, is seriously ill at his home, suffering with acute indigestion and gall stones. Waddell, who is a member of the Minneapolis American Association team, fainted at the close of the game with St. Paul yesterday.

Hartwell Wins Two.

Hartwell, July 5.—(Special.)—Hartwell defeated Royston Tuesday in a fast game, 3 to 1. Batteries: Hartwell, Cleveland and Harper; Royston, Blackman and Sumpter.

On Wednesday Hartwell again defeated the strong Royston team by a score of 13 to 3. Batteries: Royston, Moon, Brooks, Ginn and Sumpter; Hartwell, Cleveland and Harper.

MORTUARY

L. E. Carlton.

Gardner, Mass., July 5.—Louis Ellsworth Carlton, banker and manufacturer, is dead at his home here after a long illness, aged 50 years. Mr. Carlton was a republican leader and had been a delegate to the national conventions of that party.

Mrs. Robbins, Summerville.

Lyerly, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mary Brown Robbins passed away at the family residence, in Summerville, on Wednesday afternoon after an illness of several weeks. She was 73 years of age, and a devoted Christian woman. She was a woman of unusual intellect and educational advantages, having graduated from the Music Vale seminary and the Salem State Normal of Connecticut. Funeral services were held in the Methodist church in Summerville, and the interment followed in the Summerville cemetery. Mrs. Robbins is survived by her husband, S. S. Robbins, and two children, A. S. Robbins, of Summerville, and Mrs. G. H. Webb, of Chattanooga.

G. B. O'Dell.

G. B. O'Dell aged 60 years, a veteran railroad man, and a citizen of Oakwood, Ga., died yesterday in private sanitarium. The body was removed to Patterson's chapel, and will later be removed to Liberty church, Hall county, where the funeral and interment will take place Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. He is survived by four sons, G. T., R. D., and S. H. O'Dell, of Birmingham, and J. L. O'Dell, of Atlanta, and one daughter, Mrs. E. J. Carey, of Adgateville, Ga.

Evolution, Not Revolution.

What say reason and practical sense, not as to the justice or injustice of the proposals and not at all as to the motives of their sponsors and advocates, but simply as to the possibility of fulfillment of the hopes expressed?

Take first the financial and commercial phases. Dismiss impecunious collectivity as a purchasing power and regard government, the argent of the whole people, as buyer and recompenser. Clearly the hundreds of billions of dolars required for the acquirement of all of the railways, telegraphs, telephones, manufacturing plants, grain elevators, stock yards, warehouses, mines, water powers, agricultural lands, and virgin forests could not be obtained by taxation upon incomes and imports, since the sum total of both would be but as a drop in the bucket. How, then? By the issuance of government obligations, not for sale in the limited markets of the world, but directly to the present holders of the properties. That is the ready answer, coupled with the no less sprightly assurance that, under "democratic management," the earnings derived from operation would more than suffice to meet interest requirements. For reasons apparent, the one business enterprise in which the government is engaged, that of tarnsporting the mails at a loss, despite immunity from rental payments upon an immensely costly plant, is not cited in evidence. Theory is the foundation and assumption the keystone of the arch. Fortunately, illustrations based upon fact are not wanting. Bankrupt New Zealand affords, perhaps, the one most striking, and France offers many.

I HAVE not hesitated in the past to denounce the methods of those fakers who claim to cure in a few days what all well-posted physicians know to be impossible. I claim that cases of stricture, deep urethral troubles, kidney and bladder affections are worthy of most careful attention, but the welfare of the patient must be considered first of all, and I believe that these cases frequently are gouged and bruised to the patient's detriment, when more careful and tender care would save much suffering and cure much quicker.
